Mrs. Ngo Ba Thanh Totters Out Of Jail

SAIGON (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Ba Thanh, fiery critic of the war and the South Vietnamese government, tottered out of jail Friday defiantly refusing to give up posters denouncing dictatorship. She had scrawled them on toilet paper and cardboard while in jail.

Mrs. Thanh said her defiance almost convinced the authorities to reverse their decision to free her.

"Those posters were my blood, my tears," said the frail, 43-year-old lawyer, who lost 43 pounds during a 5½-month hunger strike in jail. "They threatened to keep me if I didn't hand over those posters, but I refused and they finally threw up their hands and said, 'Get out of here.'"

She now weighs 83 pounds. Mrs. Thanh's release ended a two-year imprisonment. The South Vietnamese government announced Thursday that she and three dissident labor leaders would be released from jail on bail. The announcement was considered a result of pressure from the U.S. Congress which has criticized South Vietnam's treatment of political prisoners.

Mrs. Thanh's friends said that U.S. Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., played a role in obtaining her release. Mrs. Abzug visited Saigon last month and said Mrs. Thanh was "the symbol of South Vietnam's political prisoners."

"It's so wonderful to see people, listen to birds, feel rain," said Mrs. Thanh during an interview at her home. "But even when I was in prison, my head was free and I played the role I felt I must to influence the future of my country. Now that my body is no longer in jail, I will continue to play that role."

Mrs. Thanh, who speaks seven languages, has been offered a teaching post at New York's Columbia University, where she once studied. The government has not indicated whether she will be permitted to leave the country.

Mrs. Thanh was arrested Aug. 17, 1971, on a charge of assaulting a judge.

Pork Supplies Will Not Increase Much

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report indicated Friday that pork supplies will not increase much through the winter, meaning that consumers can expect little price relief until mid-1974 at least.

The reason: An Agriculture Department survey showed that farmers are not planning to have many more sows give birth to baby pigs than they did last fall and winter. Those will be the animals which will be sold next spring and summer to make bacon, hams and other pork products.

In the Corn Belt, which produces about three-fourths of the nation's pork supply, farmers say they plan no increase in the number of baby pig litters through next February as compared with a year earlier.

Further, the report showed, the pig crop last summer —

June through August — was down four per cent from the same three months in 1972. Those are the pigs which soon will be reaching market to form a large part of the pork supply through the winter.

The report was in line with predictions by USDA economists who have been saying it may be late in 1974 before there is any substantial increase in pork.

Economists say farmers are reluctant to increase hog production when the prices of corn and other feed grains are relatively high as they have been for many months.

A record corn crop is being harvested now but prices, up-lifted by a big export demand, also are strong. Prices of live hogs which set records of around $60 per 100 pounds in early August, have dropped by one-third since then.

responsibility of General Motors.

A spokesman for General Motors in Detroit said: "Discussions are still in a preliminary stage and no specific agreements have been reached."

Fiat, the Italian auto giant, built a passenger car factory for the Russians under the arrangement being proposed to GM. But Fiat encountered such a nightmarish series of problems that when the Soviets attempted to enlist Mercedes-Benz, Mack Truck and other Western firms to do the same thing with Kama River, they refused.

Kama is being built under Russian supervision, with individual Western subcontractors providing specific sections of the plant.

The probable cost of the Siberian plant was not known.

The Soviets were said to have approached Ford about taking charge of the Siberian plant, but Ford declined.

Spiro Didn't Resign

Nixon, Agnew Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew met privately this week for the second time in three weeks, but have forbidden their staffs to discuss the substance of the session.

A Nixon spokesman said flatly Friday that Agnew didn't resign.

The latest meeting, which lasted over an hour, was held Thursday afternoon in the Executive Office Building, Deputy

White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said.

"The President and the vice president both agreed there would be no discussion or comment on the various rumors and stories based on unidentified sources," Warren said.

Warren said flatly that the vice president "did not submit his resignation."

J. Marsh Thomson, Agnew's press spokesman, said the meeting had taken place at Agnew's request.

He said he hoped the policy of silence "is not going to lead to direct speculation about the subject matter," apparently meaning reports of Agnew's possible resignation.

Such speculation had been the subject of several news reports during the week.

Agnew is under investigation by federal prosecutors and a special federal grand jury in Baltimore over allegations that he was involved in a scheme of kickbacks and bribery between Maryland politicians and state contractors. Agnew has declared that all of the charges are false.

The Nixon-Agnew meeting was the first substantive face-to-face session the two men have had since Sept. 1, when Nixon flew back here from California for a two-hour meeting at Agnew's request.

Meanwhile, it was learned Friday that some House Democrats (Turn To Page Six) (See "Meet")

Gas Protest

By The Associated Press
Northern California motorists jammed gas stations still open as thousands of dealers began to shut down Friday, and service station operators in widely scattered areas of the country staged similar shutdowns to protest Phase 4 economic controls on the price of gas.

"The Cost of Living Council may give us a penny more (per gallon) next week, but that'll be like tossing us a bone," said David Johnson, a Washington, D.C., dealer. Organizers of a boycott movement predicted some 1,400 of the 2,000 dealers in the nation's capital would take part in a five-day shutdown beginning Monday.

John T. Dunlop, chairman of the Cost of Living Council, announced Thursday that dealers probably will be permitted a one or two cent per gallon increase on Oct. 2.

The National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, representing gasoline associations throughout the country, planned a meeting Sunday in Chicago. Tactics to deal with the price regulations were expected to be a prime topic of discussion.

Representatives of more than 3,000 Northern California service stations agreed Thursday night to close until Monday in protest over the controls.

An informal survey of San Francisco Friday found 22 stations open and 19 closed, with long lines of motorists at every open pump. In some areas north of the city, as many as 90 per cent of the stations were reported closed.

About 75 per cent of stations in the Bremerton, Wash., area also stopped pumping gas Friday and vowed to continue their protest until next Wednesday.

Ten Lima, Ohio, stations closed Friday in protest.

Charles Gladstone, chairman of the Maryland Retail Service Station Association, said only a presidential order ending Phase 4 controls on gasoline could prevent some 700 stations in the Baltimore area from shutting down at midnight Sunday.

Gladstone said 90 members of his group met with Dunlop Thursday and got "despicable" treatment. He said stations owners cannot "afford to subsidize the economic programs of the administration and major oil companies."

Economists Propose Creation Of International Food Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economists from North America, Europe and Japan Friday proposed creating an international food bank, from which food could be withdrawn to meet serious shortages.

They recommended an international agreement to fix the quantity of food that would be held in reserve — one participant suggested 100 million tons of grains — and to arrange a joint decision-making procedure on how and when the food would be used.

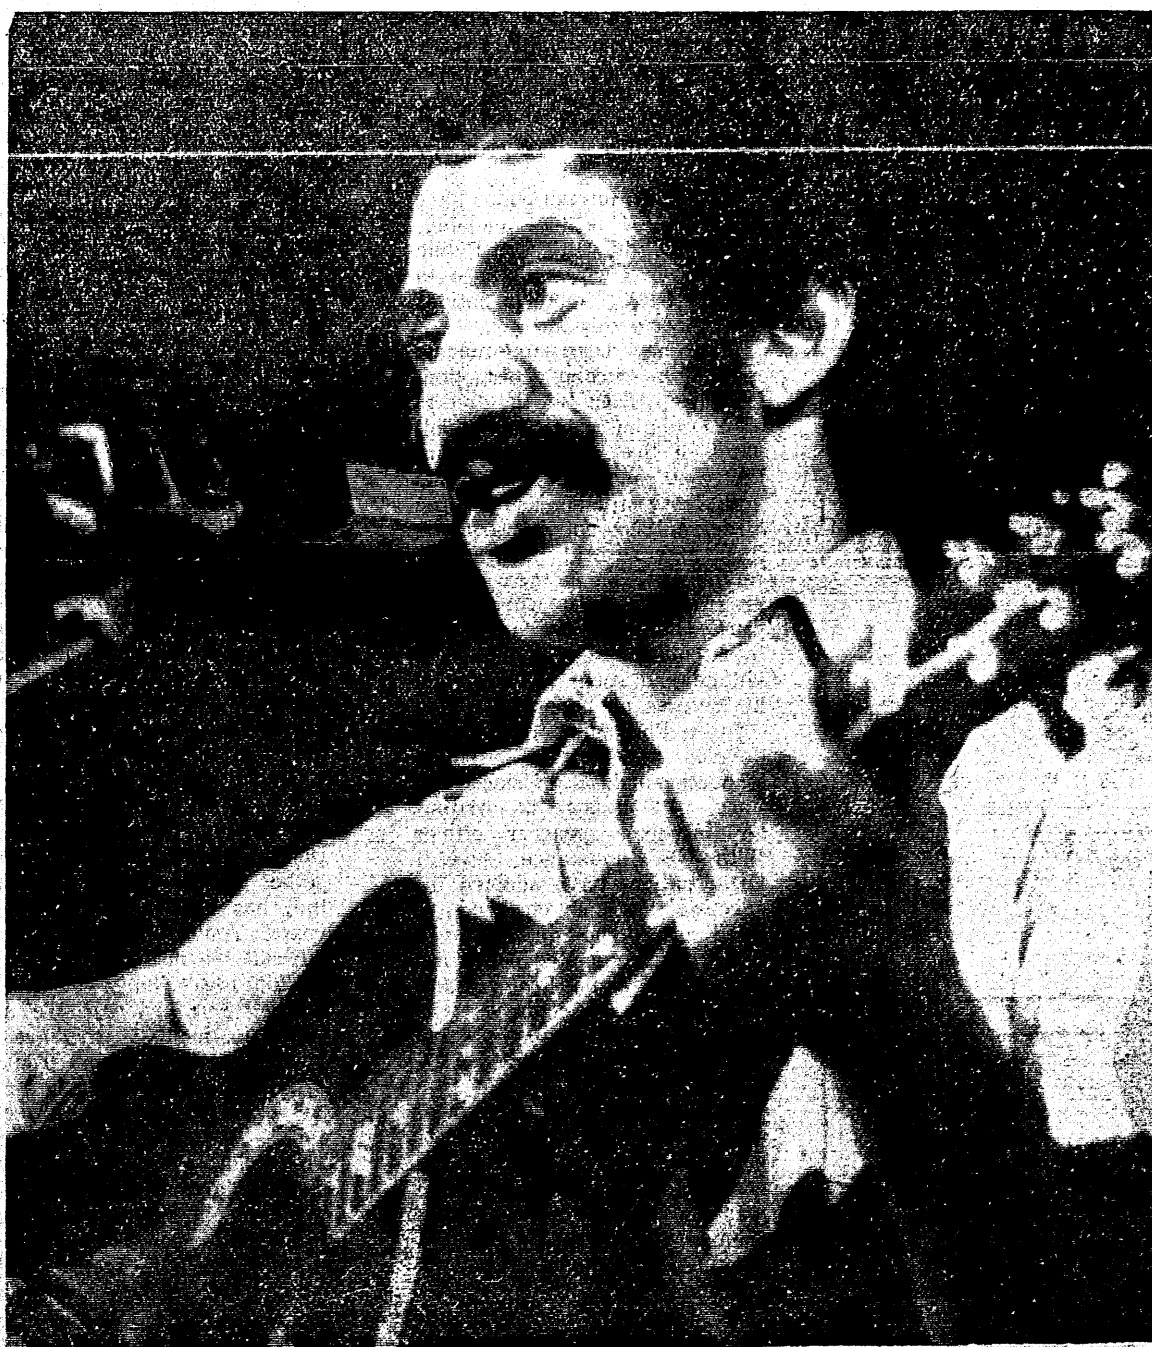

The costs of accumulating and saving the food stocks would be shared by all the industrial countries, including such exporting nations as the United States and such importing countries as Japan.

Food reserves also would be available to the developing countries in time of serious shortages and could be used to smooth year-to-year market fluctuations, they said.

The economists acknowledged that building the reserves would involve some sacrifice, including occasionally denying food to hungry people, and at the least diverting grain from livestock feed to direct use, meaning reducing available meat.

"The principal alternative is to do nothing ... to build up for ourselves in a few years agricultural problems even more divisive than in the past couple of decades," said Philip H. Trezise, a former assistant secretary of the U.S. State Department working with the Brookings Institution.

Skylab Astronauts Hold News Briefing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Skylab 2 astronauts said Friday they could stay in space "almost indefinitely" and expect to have only small problems readjusting to gravity when they return to earth Tuesday.

Astronauts Alan L. Bean, Jack R. Lousma and Owen K. Garriott, in their first news conference since they were launched July 28, said they felt full of energy, were still fascinated with their work and wished only that they could stay in space longer than the planned 59 days.

"This would be the perfect job if you could go home every night to your wife," said Bean.

Asked if their mission indicates man could live well enough in space to make long-term voyages to distant planets, Lousma said, "There's no question that we could go more than 59 days. Our health is pretty much stabilized. I think we could go on working up here almost indefinitely."

"I would dearly love to have another two months ... with absolutely no requests from the ground," said Garriott. "You can amuse yourself indefinitely by seeing things you've never had a chance to see before."

The astronauts replied to questions submitted by newsmen and read to them by Mission Control.

The news conference came on their last day of major work experiments. They completed their use of earth resources and solar telescope cameras and devoted several hours to preparing for a space walk early Saturday morning.

Bean and Garriott will spend 2½ hours starting about 7 a.m. EDT Saturday recovering solar camera film and experiments from outside the spaceship. Lousma will remain inside.

Bean said the astronauts will readjust to earth's gravity and "be back in pretty good shape within a week or so."

Asked if they were ever tired or bored, Bean said, "not at all."

He said they would leave the space station "in better shape than when we got here" and ready for the Skylab 3 crew, which starts a 56-day mission in November.

Junta Gives Its Version

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The four-man junta outlawed Marxist political parties Friday and released a report which claims that President Salvador Allende committed suicide when the military toppled his government 10 days ago.

Informed sources in Moscow said the Kremlin broke diplomatic relations with Chile and ordered Chilean diplomats home. The Soviet government supported Allende.

The report on Allende was aimed at knocking down stories published abroad that the 65-year-old Marxist leader was shot fighting troops which attacked the presidential palace during the Sept. 11 coup.

Besides declaring Marxist parties illegal, non-Marxist political parties were declared by the military to be "in recess to let the country catch its breath politically." Army Gen. Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, junta president, said democratic civilian government will be restored "as soon as the country ... forgets the chaos it was living in ..."

At a press conference, Pinochet said that "neither the United States nor any country had anything to do with" the coup. He said "this movement is a national movement free of any foreign influence. And let me say that I think not even my wife knew what was going to happen. There are very few of us who organized it."

In Washington, the U.S. Senate's Democratic party leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, urged an investigation to determine whether the United States was involved in the overthrow of Allende, the Western Hemisphere's first freely elected Marxist president.

Pinochet said that during the coup, the military offered Allende free passage out of Chile in a special plane if he would surrender and avoid bloodshed. The junta chief said that during the siege of the presidential palace, "Allende committed suicide, shooting himself with an automatic rifle in the chin."

Soviets, GM Discuss Huge Truck Factory

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has started preliminary talks with General Motors in hopes of convincing to U.S. auto maker to build a billion-dollar truck factory in Siberia, U.S. sources said Friday.

The sources said the Soviets had a target date of the early 1980s for the heavy-duty truck factory that will be larger than the mammoth Kama River installation, which is now nearing completion at a location about 600 miles southeast of Moscow.

The Kama River plant, with production planned at 150,000 heavy trucks and 150,000 engines a year, will be the world's largest truck factory. Its cost has been put at about $2 billion.

Sources said the Soviets were interested in a so-called "turn-key" plant in Siberia, one in which the foreign general contractor "turns over the key" to the Russians after completion.

General management of the building would be entirely the End Of 'The Silence'

The long standing West Point cadet practice of imposing "the silence" on violators or supposed violators of the honor code came screamingly to general public attention last June. Upon his graduation from the United States Military Academy James J. Pelosi made some penetrating comments on the practice. He spoke from experience: during the last year and a half of his West Point career he had been the butt of this treatment whereby fellow cadets ostracize and shun a man, even to the extent of forcing him to room alone and eat alone at a 10-man table.

On that occasion Pelosi broke his own self imposed silence on the subject of his ordeal. "Maybe," he said, "people around here can start examining their own consciences instead of always watching everyone else's." He said his decision to speak out was motivated by a hope that "if people know, it might help to implement some change."

Thanks to this stubbornly courageous young man — who suffered this treatment even though a board of officers had formally restored him to good standing in the Corps — the public did indeed come to know about the practice. Apparently, too, members of the Corps did examine their consciences. At any rate, the Cadet Honor Committee has now officially discontinued "the silence" as a punitive measure. This is said to have been done on the basis of an informal referendum which showed the practice to be in widespread disfavor among cadets.

Whatever the reasons, West Point is well rid of a custom flawed by much potential for injustice. This, taken together with the recently announced official modification of school rules, is a welcome humanizing move at the Military Academy.

Election Spending Soars

If any additional makeweight were needed to bolster the argument for further campaign spending reform, the Common Cause report on the 1972 outlays by candidates for Congress would serve admirably. Incumbents and challengers spent a total of more than 77 million dollars — not including whatever was spent before April 7, 1972, when the new accountability law took effect.

Even before this report tallied spending in primaries and general elections, it was evident that the situation demands yet something more than the tighter provisions of that law. The Watergate disclosures have made it plain that there is still much room for improvement.

The Common Cause report re-emphasizes this. For example, it makes the significant point that a comparatively small percentage of candidates' money is drawn from masses of small givers. Those who gave more than $100 accounted for about 68 per cent of the total of contributions made after April 7.

Another point of special interest is the finding that political money tends to gravitate to incumbents. The report says this: "The results overwhelmingly demonstrate that it is incumbency and not party affiliation which determines whether a candidate can obtain substantial support." In short, challengers have an upstream pull in this respect, as in others.

Common Cause perceives the remedy to be government financing of all federal elections, and calls for support of legislation to this effect. We have some reservations about the wisdom of sole reliance on public funds, but do feel that government financing possibilities should be thoroughly explored. Present methods, despite the new restrictions imposed as of April 1972, do not contain adequate safeguards against abuse.

Examine Nomination Of Vice Presidents

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A time of vice presidential troubles may be the prelude to change in the way political parties nominate candidates for the No. 2 spot on their national tickets.

First came the trauma of the Democrats over the replacement of Sen. Thomas F. Eagle-ton as their nominee for vice president in 1972.

Now the Republican administration is beset with problems raised by the investigation of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew in connection with alleged political graft in Maryland.

Agnew has denied any wrongdoing.

Whatever the outcome of the federal inquiry, it is likely to be difficult for a future presidential nominee to name his running mate in the traditional way and gain immediate, virtually automatic ratification of his choice.

Reform panels in both parties have been assigned to examine the vice presidential nominating process and consider possible changes.

Eagleton resigned from the Democratic ticket after disclosing that he had been hospitalized for mental exhaustion and depression. Sen. George McGovern learned of that only after Eagleton's nomination as his running mate.

Eagleton was a last-minute choice whose background got only a cursory check before he was selected.

With the panels assigned to look into changes in the vice presidential nominating process, the problem is one of opening up the selection system while avoiding the possibility that a party might wind up with incompatible running mates.

One possibility would be to have presidential and vice presidential candidates run as a team in the primary elections. Another might be to encourage campaigning by vice presidential hopefuls in those primaries. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who heads the Democratic commission on the subject, has mentioned those possibilities.

Another option would be to have the presidential nominee give the convention a list of vice presidential prospects acceptable to him, and let the delegates choose among them.

Another would be to separate by at least a full day the convention sessions at which the presidential and vice presidential nominees are chosen, providing more time for the selection and consideration of the candidate in the second spot.

The Human Race

Senator Would End Foreign Police Aid

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., is at it again, attempting to end American aid and instruction to foreign police. He argues our assistance unavoidably invites criticism from those who seek to identify the United States with every act of police brutality in countries where the program operates.

This is cowardly retreat. In many countries police have little regard for human rights. If U.S. economic aid is to mean anything, and if we are to help foreign developing countries in ways which will make for a world of the type in which we and almost all other human beings wish to live, then we must use whatever influence we can on national police departments.

This is a slow, difficult task. The way to measure progress is to note here and there a shift in police attitude.

Begin with Chief Isodoro Relative, Nabua Police Department, the Philippines, a graduate of the U.S. International Police Academy. On his way is his objective (taken from AID), "To the man on the street, the police are the government. When the police are fair, the government is just. When the police are competent and compassionate, their government is efficient and humane."

Some 7,500 foreign police have been trained in the academy. Since 1954 the Office of Public Safety has given assistance to 52 countries. Eighteen nations now receive this aid.

There have been some modest results in curbing corruption. In Zaire, 11 out of the top 14 police administrators are graduates of the AID International Police Academy. Early this year these officials issued three direct anti-corruption warnings, then took several hundred offending policemen to a remote area in the bush where they worked eight hours a day in the boiling sun building a village and spent the evenings at lectures on honesty.

In the Philippines, OPS helped develop guidelines for a police inspection-audit division. In Laos, OPS assisted in creating an inspector general office. With OPS assistance, several Latin nations have adopted inspection systems designed to weed out corrupt officers.

Ten years ago, the police approach to demonstrators and rioters in many countries was fixed bayonets. Non-lethal tear gas is being substituted in AID-assisted nations.

In Ecuador's El Oro Province, when a student strike escalated into violent mob action, the restraint of the National Police was so marked the students themselves published a handbill praising the officers for their attitude.

In Jamaica, Guatemala, Colombia and Venezuela, recent demonstrations and riots have been controlled more effectively with less injury and loss of life to rioters and demonstrators than in the past.

Improved police behavior in the questioning of suspects has not been as pronounced. But as one adviser put it, more local police now realize "a chip of paint or a fingerprint is a more reliable piece of evidence than a worthless confession beaten out of a suspect."

American advisers and instructors make suggestions; they cannot order other nations to change their police methods. There is heavy dependence on the indirect approach. It has been felt that if the police could be encouraged to go strongly into civic action, this mingling of officers with the population would improve police attitudes.

In Zaire, police have started baby clinics. Philippines police have established youth opportunity programs. In Ecuador, new rural police buildings include centers for educating local illiterates; police dentists man clinics for rural children. Border patrol police in Thailand instruct hill tribesmen in crop rotation and the proper use of fertilizer and have erected hundreds of simple one-room rural schools.

None of this is meant to imply police departments of the developing world have suddenly become professional, nonpolitical, uncorruptible, with scrupulous regard for human rights. But indications are that changes are being made.

Ann Landers:

Pricing Sexual Favors Beneath Her Dignity

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married to this man for 18 years. We were poor when we started but now we have more than we ever dreamed of.

From the early days of our marriage I never got an allowance like most wives. The only way I could get any money out of my husband (even for necessities) was to put a price on my sexual "favors." I fantasized a lot — pretending I was Mata Hari, Cleopatra, Joan of Arc and a few other heroines of history — and must say it was rather enjoyable. But now I am older and wiser and I feel this is beneath my dignity.

Last week my husband offered me $100. I said no and explained that I wanted to stop playing that game. He kept raising the price and finally I gave in for $400. (The money went to run the house.) Now I need money to pay a whopping big dentist bill. He stubbornly insists that I play the game or no money. How can I get him to see it my way? — A Better Me

Dear You: You're trying to move from Sales to Management, honey, and it won't work. Don't blame your husband. Together you established a pattern that has been in effect for 18 years. You're going to find it difficult, if not impossible, to get him to see things your way.

Dear Ann Landers: We are fortunate in that we have a lovely, motherly-type woman who will come and stay with our children evenings, weekends — whenever we want her. The children love "Aunt Belle" and she loves them.

A problem has come up and I don't know how to handle it.

"Aunt Belle" is deeply religious and her religion is different from ours. She talks a great deal about her concepts which are not compatible with what our children are learning in Sunday school. For the oldest girl's birthday last week, "Aunt Belle" gave her a crucifix. This symbol is not worn by people of our faith. I said nothing, but I was not pleased. This afternoon my mother was here and when she saw the crucifix around the child's neck she blew up. The child is bewildered and can't understand what all the yelling was about. I realize now I mishandled the whole thing.

How can I set this matter straight without hurting "Aunt Belle's" feelings. — Smart Too Late

Dear S.T.L.: First explain to the child why she can't wear the crucifix. Then have a friendly chat with "Aunt Belle." Ask her not to discuss religion with your children. Tell her they are becoming confused. Explain that your child cannot wear the religious symbol and ask her if she would mind if the child kept it as a memento.

Dear Ann Landers: How can I protect myself against a vicious liar? This person has been telling some terrible lies about me to anyone who will listen. I do believe she is a mental case. We are distant relatives and grew up together.

When I faced her with some of the stories she denied everything. In fact, she shrewdly twisted things around and made the person who told me the story look like a liar.

I need your advice. — Muddled A-Plenty

Dear M.: A person's record of performance is his best protection against destructive gossip. What you are speaks far more eloquently than anything anyone could say. Don't waste time or energy defending yourself. If the woman is as vicious as you say, people know it by this time.

Confidential to Knocked Down To My Knees By Trouble: So long as you're on your knees why not pray a little? Prayer has brought many discouraged and heartsick people the strength they needed to pick themselves up and get moving. It works.

Senate Confirms Henry Kissinger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate confirmed Henry A. Kissinger as secretary of state Friday, elevating the 50-year-old German immigrant to the No. 1 position in President Nixon's cabinet.

The vote was 78 to 7. Kissinger, the White House adviser who engineered President Nixon's dramatic diplomatic initiatives toward warming U.S. relations with Moscow and Peking, won approval amid calls for foreign policy unity and a warning by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., that détente with the Russians and Chinese seemed to be coming unraveled.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, led the drive to approve President Nixon's nomination.

Within moments after the confirmation vote, the White House announced Kissinger would be sworn in at 11 a.m. EDT ceremony Saturday in the White House East Room with Chief Justice Warren Burger presiding.

The votes against Kissinger were cast by Sens. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Floyd K. Haskell, D-Colo., Jesse Helms, R-N.C., Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, James Abourezk, D-S.D., and Lowell Weicker, R-Conn.

The Senate was fulsome in its praise of the former Harvard professor's intellectual credentials and his achievements as Nixon's No. 1 foreign policy adviser for the past four-and-a-half years.

Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., said "he has proved to the world that this still is an open society."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, called Kissinger a "vigorous and dynamic leader." Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said he respected Kissinger's "intellectual capacity and his unusual grasp of complex problems."

Some Senators who had bitterly fought Kissinger and the administration on Vietnam since 1969, still expressed misgivings.

"In his reliance on the diplomacy of big power clout, Dr. Kissinger has shown no inclination, to my knowledge, to look beyond the faces of dictators to see if people are suffering and dying from war, hunger or brutal repression," said Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa.

Hughes said Kissinger had "alienated our closest allies in Europe and Asia."

Kissinger was born May 27, 1923 in Fuerth, Germany. His family emigrated to the United States in 1938 to escape Nazi repression of Jews.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, led off final debate of the nomination, saying he was voting for Kissinger but warned the senators that relations between the United States and the Soviet Union may be under stress.

"There are signs that the détente policy is coming unraveled," said Fulbright. "... (Soviet leader) Brezhnev's recent speeches indicate that he is under great pressure from those who disapprove of his policies, and criticism is growing in this country also."

He said he was fearful that the country may be moving back toward a revival of the cold war instead of proceeding toward a greater normalization of relations with the Communist powers.

Fulbright said he had hoped that Kissinger's nomination would provide the vehicle for a full-scale Senate debate on foreign policy, but because of the time limitation, this was impossible.

Fulbright made clear that he expected future disagreements with Kissinger, just as he often disagreed in the past with Kissinger's activities as Nixon's right-hand man in carrying out policies in Vietnam and some other areas of foreign policy.

Kissinger sought during the committee confirmation hearings to assure senators that he would consult with appropriate congressional committees on key foreign policy matters in the future. Fulbright and others have accused the administration of bypassing Congress in many past major policy actions.

As part of his gesture toward improving relations with Congress, Kissinger invited Fulbright and some other members of the committee to accompany him to the United Nations for his first speech as secretary.

YOUR BIRTHDAY AND HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

Born today, you are thought by some to be extremely self-oriented and, thus, neither especially sympathetic nor especially sympathetic to other people. This is an image of yourself, however, which is far from the real thing. You are, in fact, both generous and sympathetic — but you are also inconsistent that other people able to help themselves should do so, and that they should do so with the least amount of fuss possible. Self-help is in your opinion to be equated with honor, integrity, and character in general; to help others to self-help is in your view a good deed.

Although you do not encourage easy friendships and, in fact, often make it difficult for others to come to know you well enough to consider themselves friends in the first place, you are on the whole fond of people. You enjoy group activities to the extent that they are productive. Your expectation that the group will accomplish more than the individual is often disappointed, however, and as a result you usually prefer to work alone.

Creature comforts mean a great deal to you and you will work hard to achieve them for yourself and your loved ones. On the other hand, you are not so eager to make your fortune that you will deny your basic nature in the interest of money. Any work that forces you into a mold foreign to your instincts is work which you will not take long in throwing over, regardless of how lucrative it might be.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, September 23
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Friends are more vital to your personal happiness than to your financial success. Guard against alienating any one of them through greed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — An excellent time for making new friends — if you are careful not to allow yourself to be persuaded into keeping bad company. Use your head!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — A day for lending spiritual support to another even if you can't be of aid financially. Your sensitivity to another's feelings proves vital.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Entertain a new friend in your home today. Do some sightseeing with the family if possible — and keep your friends from interfering late in the day.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Circumstances may prove too much for you to cope with on your own. Seek the kind of help that is both tangible and beneficial. You may find it at evening.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Take your time — and take your turn. Don't be hesitant about expressing yourself; there is little you could say now to change the situation for another.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — The opportunity to advance your plans comes early in the day. Take care to be watchful or you could miss out on a chance for real gain.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Though it will require considerable tact on your part, you would be wise to inform another as to the behavior of a third party. Realize an ambition at evening.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Morning worship brings ideas flooding into your mind. The words of a sermon put you in contact with some hidden aspects of your nature.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Caution is advised for the morning period. Afternoon hours seem calculated to the gaining of success — if you've followed another's advice.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22) — Though romance may be of very little importance to you at this time, it may be vital to another's happiness. Give something more of yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Keep relatively close to home during daylight hours. Church attendance, however, is an exception to this advice. Spiritual activities run high.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Sept. 22, the 265th day of 1973. There are 100 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1952, Richard Nixon, campaigning for the vice presidency, went on nationwide radio and television to refute allegations of wrongdoing in accepting an $18,000 expense fund. It's become known as the "Checkers" speech.

On this date — In 1776, Nathan Hale was hanged as a spy by the British and he uttered the immortal words: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

In 1789, the U.S. Supreme Court was established.

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln issued the preliminary Emancipation Proclamation.

In 1927, Gene Tunney successfully defended his heavyweight boxing title against Jack Dempsey in the famous long count bout in Chicago.

In 1931, Britain abandoned the gold standard.

In 1961, the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered an end to racial discrimination on buses traveling between states.

Ten years ago — A new altitude record of more than 67 miles was set by an X15 experimental rocket plane.

Five years ago — Two Colombian airliners on domestic flights were hijacked to Cuba a little more than two hours apart.

One year ago — The Food and Drug Administration banned the use of hexachlorophene in most cosmetics and over-the-counter drugs.

Today's birthday: Actress Martha Scott is 57.

Thought for today: Democracy is the hole in the stuffed shirt through which the sawdust slowly trickles — humorist E.B. White.

Nematicides must be applied before or during planting.

JIM CROCE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

NATCHITOCHES, La. (AP) — Recording star Jim Croce, whose latest hit was top seller "Big Bad Leroy Brown," was killed along with five others in a plane crash near the Natchitoches municipal airport.

The 30-year-old rock singer had just completed a performance before 2,000 students at Northwestern State University.

Natchitoches Parish Sheriff Sam James said Robert N. Elliott of Dallas was the pilot of the twin-engine chartered plane. The others were connected with the tour group.

The crash occurred about 10:45 p.m. Thursday, as the plane left the south runway. It crashed about 200 yards from the end of the runway after hitting a tree.

JONES COUPLE CELEBRATES IN ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE — Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones, rural Roodhouse, celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary Sept. 18, with a supper held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Pam Jones and children, Roodhouse.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Lee Lewis, Tuesday were a daughter, Mrs. Russell Kimmons and daughter, Jacksonville; and Mrs. W. O. Harp, city.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bartlett, rural Roodhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Nichols, White Hall, attended the annual Farm Service meeting held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago Wednesday through Friday.

The Bartletts also spent some time with relatives there.

AT3 William (Bill) Hunt and wife and daughter, Jessica, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Hunt. AT3 Hunt, who has been stationed in the Navy at Quonset Point, received his honorable discharge recently after four years of service. He and his family are considering locating in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Rick Dawdy is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ferguson. She has been with her husband, Airman First Class Dawdy at Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hurst entertained her sister, Mrs. James Sharp and children, Stanford; and a brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Evans and family, Bethalto, recently.

Elm City Rehabilitation Center (ECRC) is still at the same location, North Sandy and West Douglas avenue, despite the advancing urban renewal activity in its immediate area. To assist in the anti-pollution effort and because so many area residents have accumulated old newspapers the Center will now accept sacked or bundled newspapers. This does not include magazines with heavy dyes.

The newspapers must be folded and encased in heavy grocery store bags or securely tied in bundles. These may be brought on Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. to the rear entrance of the Center, corner of W. Douglas and North Sandy.

Alabama's 21.7 million acres of forests grossed producers an estimated $83 million in 1972, up $14 million from 1971's $69 million.

Building with power

Technology is abroad in the land. Everywhere big yellow and green machines pound and churn the earth. Highways unroll, apartment complexes rise and amusement parks expand.

Our children watch. They know power when they see it!

Some of our children, though, don't know about another power for building. They have not been taught to see it. It is the power of God and it also shakes and moves us. It is necessary for all men—a gigantic source of energy and strength.

Take your children to church on Sunday. They will be tomorrow's builders.

Librarian Tells How To Refinish Bible

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — This is to answer Noradream who wanted to know how to improve the looks of the worn leather cover on an old family Bible. I have worked in a public library for years. One of my jobs is to refurbish old books and I have had several old Bibles to do. Dirt and dust first must be removed. A clean surface is necessary. I wring a cloth out of warm water until it is nearly dry and use it to go over the cover. When perfectly dry I touch up the chipped or worn spots with a permanent color black pen, liquid shoe polish. Even black ink could be used. Let dry. Spread a newspaper down, open book face down and use a clear acrylic plastic spray according to directions. Several thin coats may be needed but let dry between each coat. An all-purpose white glue is good to use when leaves need pasting together. — LIBRARIAN

DEAR READER — Bless you all. Your questions do cause me to get things done that have been putting him off for years. I, too, had such a Bible and found the hardest part was really cleaning it. Mine has an embossed sort of imitation leather cover. All the dirt had to be removed from indentations so a small soft brush was needed. I used black liquid shoe polish to go over the entire cover for an even look. I could not find such a spray as mentioned by Librarian but used a spray furniture wax with lemon oil. It gave just the look I like: a very slight gloss and it can be resprayed and wiped off to a gloss whenever needed. — POLLY

Polly Problem
DEAR POLLY — How can I remove that popular adhesive-backed paper from laminated plastic? It will not peel off this as it does off wood or plaster. I tried the instructions on the back of this paper but the work is hard and slow. — MRS. J. T.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with people who block the meat counter with their carts. It usually takes a long time for them to make selections and with carts lined along the counter anyone in a hurry cannot get near it. Carts could be just as easily put in spots with little traffic so more people could have a chance to look at and select their meat. — KATE

PAUL COX'S OF ASHLAND MARK 40TH ANNIVERSARY

ASHLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cox, of Ashland recently celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary with open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. James Masten in Tallula, with many relatives attending the happy occasion.

Miss Fern Money and Paul Cox were married in Virginia in 1933. They are the parents of seven children: Jerry, at home; Richard of Edwards; Donald, Mrs. Robert (JoAnn) Megredy and Mrs. James (Barbara) Masten of Tallula; Mrs. Arthur (Marilyn) Brown of Jacksonville, and Mrs. James (Linda) Hughes, Ashland. There are 13 grandchildren.

Mr. Cox is custodian at the Ashland high school.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters

Gamma and Xi Alpha Upsilon chapters of Beta Sigma Phi began the sorority year with a potluck dinner Monday evening, September 10, at the home of Beverly Starr. Seventeen members were present, and Mrs. Marian Chase Schaeffer, chapter honorary member, was welcomed.

Xi Alpha Upsilon president Betty Hamilton presided at the business session. A motion was passed to have a deadline for the payment of dues. The ways and means committee announced a rummage sale will be held Friday and Saturday, September 28 and 29, in the building behind the county jail. The remainder of the evening was spent socially with bridge and conversation. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, September 24, at the home of Martha June Svob.

It never pays to relax at the bridge table. You never can tell when some copperhead is going to rear up and bite you. South won the first trick with his ace of diamonds. He drew trumps with two leads; led a diamond to dummy's king; ruffed dummy's last diamond; led a spade to the ace; ruffed the last spade and finally was ready to attack clubs.

He led a club to dummy's queen and it held. There didn't seem to be any more danger and he led a second club to his ace. West showed out and South had no way to avoid the loss of two club tricks.

Mean old East had counted the hand and seen that South held four clubs. Hence, there was no point in his winning the first club.

Of course, the low club play should not have succeeded. When East followed to the second club South should duck completely.

If clubs were going to break 3-2 there were no worries. If East did hold four he would be caught in an end play.

Perfectly elementary to anyone who has learned that eternal vigilance is the price of safety.

Boyle's Mailbag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Excerpts from letters we'd like to get but the postman rarely brings:

"We are lawyers representing the late Miss Hortense McWherry, whom you probably remember as the lovely red-haired girl who jilted you in high school. Later she came to regret bitterly the shabby way she had treated you, and often said it was the biggest mistake of her lifetime, because she could never hope to attract another man as fine as you.

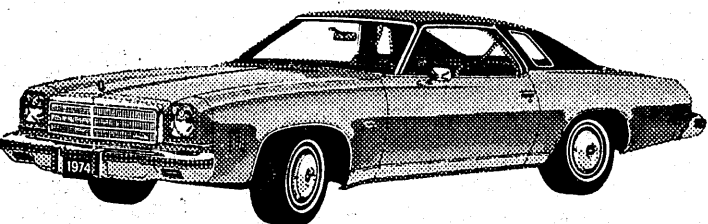

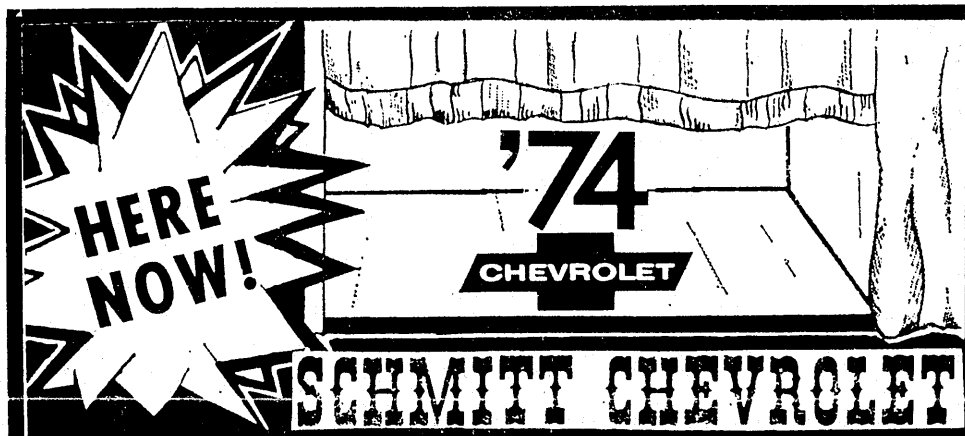

"In time she became a recluse and kept a candle lit under the high school yearbook picture of you she pasted on her bedroom wall. To shorten a long story, she died last week, still murmuring your name as tears rolled down her cheeks.

"Her will bequeaths you half the money in her father's residuary estate. Your share comes to $500,000. Would you like us to send it to you in bills of large or small denominations?"

Dear Jim,
My wife tells me that your wife told her that you were moping because you felt you had made a first-class fool of yourself at our cocktail party last Friday.

Nonsense, old man. You were the life of the party. It would have laid a great big ostrich egg except for the fun you provided. All the guests were crazy about you.

Scott Applauds Anti-Fraud Law

CHICAGO (AP)—Atty. Gen. William J. Scott said Friday that a new consumer protection bill drafted by his office would give him a free hand for the first time to investigate and prosecute every type of deceptive and fraudulent practice in Illinois.

The Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practices Act was signed into law earlier Friday at Springfield by Gov. Daniel Walker and "it gives me greatly increased powers to protect the rights of all consumers in the state — it is a sweeping new tool," said Scott.

"It expands the power of the attorney general to take effective action to halt all deceptive and unfair business or trade practices and we will swing into action when the law goes into effect Oct. 1," Scott told a news conference. "It also allows the state to utilize the findings and rulings of the Federal Trade Commission."

"Also, for the first time, the attorney general will be able to take prompt action against the sale of real estate by unscrupulous promoters within Illinois," he added.

Scott said the law allows for the first time individuals to file citizens' suits for damages and restitution and "supplements powers under the Illinois Anti-Trust Act by prohibiting unfair methods of competition which can include below cost and discriminatory pricing that favors a large concern and injures small competitors."

"We now can prohibit the sale of franchises to Illinois citizens by means of deceptive or unfair methods," said Scott. "And it will be effective in any illegal practices involving such ploys as bait and switch advertising, fictitious pricing, deceptive guarantees, misrepresentations as to expected earnings and profits, and mislabeling."

The law also allows action against the sale of reconditioned or used products as new, false claims of quality or performance, use of referral selling or lottery in the sale of merchandise, and deceptive claims relative to safety or health benefits of a product.

Scott said the law provides penalties of fines up to $50,000 and opens the way for court injunctions against unlawful business or trade practices.

It also provides for financial restitution in the form of refunds for persons injured as a result and it gives the attorney general the power to revoke or suspend any permit to do business in Illinois.

Talks Start On Rematch For Billie

HOUSTON (AP) — Plans began crystallizing Friday for a tennis rematch between Billie Jean King and Bobby Riggs in New York's Madison Square Garden in January, and Gardner Mulloy led a queue of older men asking for a shot at the queen of women's libbers.

The Battle of the Sexes has taken an abrupt turn—now it's the old guys hollering for a chance to redeem their honor.

"Billie Jean proved nothing by beating an exhausted, undertrained Riggs," bellowed the silver-haired Mulloy, 59, winner of more than 40 national titles and eight times king of the seniors. "If she wants to show people she is better than a man in his 50s, let her try to beat the best."

"Bobby was overconfident, cocky and stupid. He didn't train. He played miserably. I'm sure I can beat her."

Vic Seixas, Pancho Segura and Betsy Grant were others spoiling for a fight with the lady, but it appeared all would have to wait to see if Bobby gets another chance—or if anybody cares.

"I am convinced we can fill the Garden with a King-Riggs rematch," said Jerry Perenchio, the Los Angeles producer who handled Thursday night's unbelievable, record-setting spectacular at the Astro-dome.

The Astro-dome said that the gross gate had not been tabulated, but said it would exceed the $400,000 Muhammad Ali-Ernie Terrell heavyweight title gate in 1967, the largest in Astro-dome history.

In a wild, psychedelic setting and before a boisterous, sharply divided crowd of 30,472, Mrs. King, five-time Wimbledon champion, crushed the 55-year-old hustler from Newport Beach, Calif., 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

For the scrappy, underdog Mrs. King it was justifiable retribution from the notorious little hustler, who had shamed the great Margaret Court 6-2, 6-1 in a Mother's Day Massacre at San Diego May 13 and who had arrogantly said the women's role:

"The best thing to do is keep them barefoot and pregnant." The exuberant Billie Jean was disinclined to make a hurried decision on a possible rematch.

"I'd like to wait 24 hours," she said.

"I don't think Billie Jean will be interested in a rematch no matter what the financial lure," said Richard Butner, head of a Hilton Head, S.C., resort which has Mrs. King under contract. "She told me she is interested in getting back on the tour and promoting the game in a natural way."

Hocking with a Ducks Unlimited membership and a ticket to the first annual Fall Dinner Meeting of the Jacksonville Area Chapter, D.U. The dinner will be held Tuesday, Oct. 16 at the Virginia Country Club.

Ken Boyle To Co-Sponsor A Voluntary Branding Bill

SPRINGFIELD — Representative Ken Boyle, D-Carlinville, announced today that he will co-sponsor with Representative Harlan Rigney, R-Red Oak, a Voluntary Branding Bill.

He also announced that on Oct. 2, at 7 p.m., public hearings will be held in the main courtroom, second floor, of the Morgan County Courthouse, Jacksonville.

The purpose of these public hearings is to solicit information and ideas from interested citizens concerning the acute problem of cattle rustling.

Representative Boyle stated, "In my district alone, there are over 365,000 head of cattle, and 100,156,000 head of hogs. With the rise of thefts, we are faced with the dilemma on what to do in the area of law enforcement. I plan on speaking to the Governor about the funding of the I.L.E.C. Taskforce on livestock thefts. The funding of this program would attempt to meet the immediate needs of the local counties by working through the chief law enforcement officer of each county, the sheriff. As chief law enforcement of this county, the sheriff is best positioned to reduce the growing incidents of livestock theft and other rural originated crime. The sheriff's immediate needs to enable their local agency to fully function in this regard are of utmost importance to me at this time."

Indians Shutout Bluffs By 30-0 To Stay Perfect

BLUFFS — Tim Crow and Steve Beauchamp provided the touchdowns as Meredosias rolled to a 30-0 victory over Bluffs in a non-conference contest Friday night.

Meredosias, now 3-0 scored in each quarter with Crow going in from the seven on the first tally. Steve Browning carried the conversion for a quick 8-0 lead. Crow scored in the second frame on a 73 yard scamper from scrimmage with Dick Wohlers tossing to John Alhorn on the conversion.

The victors gained 308 yards on the ground, compared to 52 for Bluffs, with Crow getting 137 yards, Beauchamp 95 and Browning 55. The Indians racked up 15 first downs to four for Bluffs.

Beauchamp scored twice in the second half with the initial tally coming on a two yard plunge in the third period and the last a three yard run in the final frame. John Alhorn scooped up a fumble on the first conversion for two points, with the run for the final score falling short.

Bluffs is now 1-3. Score by quarters: Meredosias 8 8 8 6-30 Bluffs 0 0 0 0-0

Meet

cratic members, including some party leaders, have flatly rejected the name of former Texas Gov. John B. Connally as a possible vice president should Agnew resign.

House Democratic sources said the subject of a successor to Agnew came up at several private meetings held by groups of Democratic members during the week.

Among the names considered acceptable as an Agnew successor were Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., former Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., the House minority leader. Another report said Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., also has been mentioned.

Connally served in Nixon's Cabinet as secretary of the Treasury, and later, after he had switched parties and become a Republican, he served briefly as a White House adviser. His name has been one of the most prominently mentioned in speculation about a successor to Agnew.

It basically has been the reasoning of the House Democrats that no one who is a possible contender for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination is an acceptable replacement for Agnew.

"Why let your future opponent use the second highest office in the nation to launch a campaign against you?" one source asked.

Should Agnew step down, his successor would be named by Nixon under the rules of the 25th Amendment which says the new vice president must be approved by a simple majority in each house of Congress.

With a Democratic majority in both houses, Nixon would have a difficult time getting confirmation for a likely 1976 Republican presidential contender.

Band Parents Ready For Chicken Fry

The Jacksonville Band Parent Association made final arrangements Sept. 18 for its 19th annual Band Parent Chicken Fry to be held Tuesday, September 25th. Serving is 5:00 until 7:00 p.m. from the 4-H building at Morgan County Fairgrounds.

For the carry-out "bargain in a box" chicken and drive-in service everyone should enter from Westgate and exit on Grand Avenue.

Anyone wishing tickets should contact band students of Armstrong, Turner Junior High Schools or the Jacksonville High School bands or call Mrs. Don Kirchhoeffer 245-8976; Mrs. Hobart Hinderliter 245-7297 or Mrs. James Deck 245-9985 regarding tickets.

Tickets are $1.50 each and include: one-fourth fried chicken, applesauce, potato chips, bread and butter and a cupcake. This will be boxed and ready to go or eat at the 4-H building. As long as variety is available, there will be a choice of light or dark meat. For persons wishing to eat at the building, they may purchase coffee, iced tea or Kool-aid. Any unsold tickets will be on sale after 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

General chairman, Mrs. Charles Hayes, announces the following committees and workers.

Tickets—Mrs. Hobart Hinderliter, chairman, Mrs. John Oliver, Mrs. Harry Emrick, Mrs. Charles Hayes, Mrs. James Henderson and Mrs. Bill Buchanan.

Mrs. Carman Potter, Mrs. Don Kirchhoeffer, Mrs. Elbert Middleton and Mrs. Craver packed the tickets last week.

Tickets were distributed to the band classes by Mrs. James Deck and Mrs. Don Craddock at JHS; Mrs. James Henderson and Mrs. Harry Emrick at Armstrong and Mrs. Don Kirchhoeffer, Mrs. George Shaffer and Mrs. Elbert Middleton at Turner Junior High.

Making boxes, Mrs. Charles Hayes and Mrs. Bill Buchanan. Band students and parents are urged to meet at the 4-H building this Sunday, September 23 from 2 to 4 p.m. to fold boxes.

Filling boxes, Mrs. Bill Buchanan, chairman, Mrs. Paul Hess, Mrs. Mildred Vasey, Mrs. Jan Blue, Mrs. Cal Verhoff, Mrs. Myron Mason, Mrs. Charles Weidner, Mrs. Paul Heller and Mrs. James Swain and band students.

Drinks, Mrs. Edwin Ahlquist; clean-up, Lynn Chapman, Joe Wilson, Chuck Groce and band students.

Marshall Robinson, president of the Jacksonville Band Parent Association, called the last meeting to order and welcomed parents and band directors.

Reports were given by secretary Mrs. Carman Potter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edwin Ahlquist and treasurer, Mrs. Hobart Hinderliter. Committees for the 1973-74 school year are:

Uniforms: Mrs. William Clement and Mrs. Russell Morris; publicity: Mrs. Lloyd Markille and nominating committee, Mrs. Fred Killam, Mrs.

Ralph Withee and James Henderson.

The membership present selected Robert Leach to represent Jonathan Turner Junior High and Mrs. Jackson Spradlin for Armstrong Junior high, to serve with this committee.

$1 Per Family
Mrs. Mildred Vasey, membership chairman, gave a report and urged all parents to pay memberships of one dollar per family either at the chicken fry or it may be sent to Mrs. Mildred Vasey, R.R. 2, Jacksonville.

All parents of band students in Armstrong and Jonathan Turner Junior High Schools as well as the Jacksonville High School Bands are invited to the Band Parent Association. The main purpose of the association is to support all band activities and to assist when needed. In the past the association has assisted students wishing to attend summer band camp and have helped to keep the uniforms altered and repaired as well as purchasing needed items that would have otherwise not been possible.

The Jacksonville Band Parent Association will be selling "Crimson" stadium cushions at the football games, for one dollar each, or contact a band student from either Armstrong, Jonathan Turner of JHS and they will see you get one.

River Convoy Brings Supplies To Prey Veng

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian government marines, taking advantage of the Mekong River's high water, moved a 16-boat convoy Friday to the isolated provincial capital of Prey Veng, the military command said.

Prey Veng, located 29 miles east of Phnom Penh, has been cut off from the outside by road since May 1970 when North Vietnamese forces, fleeing the U.S. and South Vietnamese incursion of Cambodia, took up positions around the small town.

Col. Am Rong, the military command's chief spokesman, said, "This is the first time we have ever tried a river convoy to Prey Veng. It is only possible in the wet season."

He said the convoy carried ammunition and food from Phnom Penh.

The convoy was fired on by Khmer Rouge insurgents but no damage or casualties were reported.

On other fronts, Am Rong reported light action in the vicinity of Kompong Cham, and said government forces had expanded their areas of control around two other provincial capitals north of Phnom Penh.

Trial

Mrs. Connolly said the conversation took place in a trailer at Jerseyville in which she, Miss Beauchamp, Fonner and two other friends were present.

Both Mrs. Connolly and Miss Beauchamp said they were smoking marijuana and drinking beer. Mrs. Connolly said Fonner seemed in deep thought and when asked what was on his mind, Fonner said he was "planning a murder."

Mrs. Connolly asked who, and Fonner replied, "Peter Lackey."

Both witnesses described the conversations which took place as social and not serious.

Mrs. Connolly said she suggested using a razor on the jugular vein because of the quickness of death and suggested the use of gloves so as not to leave fingerprints.

Miss Beauchamp said she jokingly described Fonner as "my favorite pusher." She added, "We didn't choose anyone to murder."

Miss Beauchamp said murder was only one of several subjects discussed.

Mrs. Connolly said she had been a patient at Jacksonville State Hospital in late June, 1972 after an attempted suicide. She was a patient there for three weeks, and told the jury she had not been treated further.

The third witness to appear Friday morning was State Police detective William Staton of Winchester, recalled for cross-examination by the defense.

Staton related further details of his activities on the morning of the murder—Nov. 27, 1972.

The final witness before the noon recess was IBI agent Philip Kocis, who accompanied agent William Lyons when Fonner was first taken into custody.

NEW YORK (AP) — A long subbed battle between the banking and securities industries in busting into the open and soon may lead to a confrontation between regulatory agencies and maybe Congress too.

On one side is a weakened securities industry beset with more problems that it can effectively deal with at the moment but which is determined to fight against what it feels is encroachment by bankers.

Challenging them is an energetic, financially powerful banking industry that, in its efforts to expand the service products it offers customers, may be straining the meaning of regulations separating the two.

The latest episode involves the automatic investment programs being promoted by banks as a technique for the individual investor to accumulate small amounts of blue chip stocks, paying for them through monthly deductions from his account.

The banks publicize this as still another service to customers, politely declining to point out that in many instances they are merely picking up the small accounts that brokers once had but then dropped as uneconomical.

But, while maintaining that such business may still be unprofitable for them, the brokers view the move by banks as a thrust into their midst that could, if unchecked, devour them.

"We suggest that 'intrusion' is an inordinately gentle word to describe these activities," James Needham, New York Stock Exchange chairman, told the House Committee on Banking and Currency this week.

Earlier this month he sent a letter to the comptroller of the currency, James Smith, and to Ray Garrett, Jr., chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. These men and their offices are the chief regulators involved.

The brokerage fraternity argues that it has been the intention of Americans ever since the depression of the 1930s to separate the banking and securities trading function.

The Glass-Steagall Act of 1933 sought to prohibit national banks from engaging in the sale and distribution of securities. On Feb. 27 of this year, however, the comptroller issued a statement that seems to permit automatic investment programs.

The New York Stock Exchange views this ruling as the latest incident in a gradual erosion of its prerogatives and a further blurring of the distinction between broker and banker.

In his testimony before the House committee, Needham suggested that "a strong argument can be made that the Congress — as the maker of public policy — should clearly state what is permissible and what is not."

Before that stage is reached, though, a lot of fireworks are set to explode. The securities industry is only slowly awak-

Amtrak Gas Turbine Trains Start Oct. 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amtrak, the nation's rail passenger corporation, said Friday its two French turbine trains will start regularly scheduled service between Chicago and St. Louis Oct. 1.

The new trains, capable of a top speed of 125 miles per hour, are powered by gas turbine engines similar to aircraft engines. They have a capacity of 296 people and a range of 1,000 miles.

Amtrak said the trains will be operated over the route at a top speed of 79 miles per hour at the present. It said the Chicago-St. Louis route was chosen for the turbine train because of better roadbed and track.

Amtrak said the trains would take four hours and 59 minutes to make the Chicago-St. Louis run, with stops in Joliet, Bloomington, Springfield and Alton, Ill. Each train will make one round trip per day. The runs will be made during peak periods, Amtrak said.

There will be no increase in the present fare of $14.50 one-way between the two cities, Amtrak said.

Soviet War Hero Released From Mental Hospital

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has released a dissident war hero from a mental institution and placed him in an ordinary hospital following protests by militant Russian intellectuals.

Friends of former Maj. Gen. Pyotr G. Grigorenko, who sacrificed his military career to become a political dissident, said Thursday night the cashiered officer won the transfer in a long Soviet court battle.

Grigorenko, 66, was arrested on charges of "spreading falsehoods derogatory to the Soviet Union" during a trip to Tashkent in May, 1969, to campaign for Tatars seeking to return from exile in Siberia.

He also had protested trials of dissident intellectuals and publicly denounced the 1968 Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Grigorenko was never brought to trial, however. Family members said a psychiatric commission ruled him paranoid and sent him to the Chervyakovsk Mental Hospital near Kaliningrad.

Dissident sources had protested that Grigorenko was only one of several sane Russians locked up in Soviet psychiatric wards because of their political opinions.

Physicist Andrei D. Sakharov had expressed fears Grigorenko was being treated with a drug to dull his intelligence, but friends said the war hero appeared mentally alert in Moscow Wednesday on his way to the Stolbovaya General Hospital, 30 miles southeast of the Soviet capital.

The friends said it was not yet clear whether Grigorenko would be released from the Stolbovaya hospital or face criminal action for the charges.

He could have received a maximum three years in prison for the charges, but he has spent longer than that in the mental institution.

Friends said a psychiatric commission found Grigorenko sane in July, but the Kaliningrad city court delayed his release from the mental hospital pending an appeal. They said a district court then ruled to uphold the commission's findings.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices were sharply higher Friday in heavy trading after overcoming a period of morning profit-taking.

The Dow Jones average of 40 industrials, which was down as much as 3 points in early trading, was up 7.37 at 927.90 for the day and the week.

Advances overpowered declines 1,034 to 465 among the 1,811 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume topped 20 million shares for the third straight session, totaling 23.76 million shares for the day.

The NYSE index of some 1,500 common stocks was up .29 at 57.73 for the day.

On the American Stock Exchange, advances led declines 553 to 322 of the 1,179 issues changing hands. Trading was active, and the Amex market-value index posted a .46 gain at 102.75.

Brokers said the gains were a continuation of the rally in the last two sessions, which added 29 points to the Dow in unusually heavy trading. Thursday, the market posted its fifth highest volume on record. They said that the market's ability to recover Friday from morning profit-taking which had eaten into recent gains was a sign of particular strength.

Also encouraging brokers said was the Federal Reserve Board's disclosure of an unexpected purchase of $150 million in Treasury bills, which many analysts viewed as the beginning of lower interest rates.

"By buying the Treasury bills, the Fed is pumping money into the banking system, making loans more available and interest rates maybe a little cheaper," said Robert Stovall of Reynolds Securities.

Fannie Mae was volume leader on the Big Board Friday, off 1/2 at 21 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, TWA warrants were the volume leader up 1/2 at 5 1/2.

WHEAT FUTURES
DECLINE IN TRADE

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures came under liquidating pressure on the Chicago Board of Trade Friday and declined nearly the 20-cent limit.

Corn futures were down around 5 cents a bushel while oats prices were irregular. Soybeans gained around 4 cents and soybean meal and oil prices were mixed.

Despite the wide swing in wheat futures, volume of trade in the pit was very thin. There was no outstanding reason for the selling.

At the close, wheat futures were down 19 cents a bushel, December 5.06; corn was down 5 cents, December 2.49; oats were mixed, December 1.28 and soybeans gained about 5 cents, November 6.40.

Consumer Prices Jump 1.8 Per Cent In August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices jumped 1.8 per cent August, the sharpest rate of increase in 26 years, the government reported today.

The biggest one-month jump in food prices since 1933 was to blame.

The rise in over-all consumer prices was 1.8 per cent unadjusted and 1.9 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis, both the highest since September 1947.

The Labor Department said surging prices for meats, poultry and eggs accounted for about 80 per cent of the steep rise in the Consumer Price Index last month.

Consumer food prices leaped a record 6 per cent in August, more than in any month since the 9.4 per cent increase in July 1933.

Government economists had predicted the disastrous price report for August following the record-breaking boost in wholesale prices recorded earlier following the removal of price restraints.

A price freeze that began June 13 ended for food on July 18 and for almost everything else on Aug. 12.

Food prices included in the index were collected between Aug. 7-9 and prices for other items were collected throughout the month, the government said.

Nonfood items jumped five-tenths of one per cent after seasonal adjustment, slightly above the average for recent months. The cost of services, soared seven-tenths of one per cent, the largest monthly rise in nearly three years, and was due primarily to increases in mortgage interest rates, the department said.

The figure showed that the prices of food purchased in grocery stores increased more in August than in any other month since World War I, surpassing even the inflationary post-World War II surge.

Grocery prices were up 7.4 per cent unadjusted and 7.7 per cent on an adjusted basis, the highest since the government began keeping records on a seasonally adjusted basis in 1946.

The government said most of the August increase was due to unusually sharp advances in poultry, eggs and pork.

Beef and veal prices also rose sharply even though the freeze on red meat prices was not lifted until early in September.

Prices also rose for bread, milk and most other food items except fresh fruit and vegetables.

Americans also paid more to eat out, with the cost of restaurant meals and snacks rising 1.1 per cent.

With the August report, consumer prices have risen at an annual rate of 10 per cent over the past six months and 7.5 per cent over the past year.

The August jump in consumer prices pushed the overall consumer price index to 135.1, meaning that it cost consumers $13.51 to buy a variety of goods that cost $10 in the 1967 base period.

A sampling of prices showed that meats, poultry and fish rose 16.6 per cent from July to August and were 40.7 per cent higher than a year ago.

In the nonfood area, apparel prices rose in August instead of declining as they usually do in the summer months.

Prices for houses, home maintenance and repair commodities and fuel oil also increased.

However, the government said the effect of these increases were moderated somewhat by declines in prices of new and used cars.

A companion report said that real earnings of the average worker dropped 1.9 per cent in August as a result of the increase in consumer prices and average weekly earnings were down six-tenths of one per cent from August 1972.

Real spendable earnings, after deduction of Social Security and income taxes, also dropped 1.9 per cent last month and have declined 2.1 per cent since August 1972.

Twins Sweep Two Games From A's

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Tony Oliva lined a single to center in the eighth inning, scoring Larry Hise with the run that carried the Minnesota Twins to a 5-4 triumph over the Oakland A's and a sweep of Thursday night's two-night doubleheader.

Steve Brye, who knocked in two runs in the second game, lined a run-scoring single with two out in the ninth inning to give the Twins the opener 4-3.

The double loss kept the A's "magic number" at three for the clinching of the American League's West Division title.

The A's tied the nightcap 4-4 in the sixth on two singles, a sacrifice, and Vic Davalillo's bloop single to right.

Jerry Terrell and Brye each had driven in two runs with doubles in the second inning of the nightcap. Brye and Rod Carew contributed run-scoring singles in the fourth.

The A's got three runs in the third. Dick Green doubled and scored on an error, Bando's sacrifice, and Vic Davalillo's bloop single to right.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Size Problem Isn't Stupid

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I'm pretty hung up about this, and I figured you could help me out. I'm referring to the column you wrote about the 14-year-old guy who was concerned with his small size. You advised him not to lose his head until he was the same size and two years older. I'm a little past 16 and I'm only 5'2" and weigh about 110 pounds. My folks say it's a "stupid thing" to worry about — not being able to keep up with kids my own age because of my size. I'm worried, stupid or otherwise, and I eat the same food as the rest of the family, which seems healthy enough, so it must be me.

If you suggest a pro, also suggest how to talk parents into it. They aren't accustomed to spending dollars on "stupid things." Reply through the paper, if possible, because if Mom or Dad finds this letter of yours I'll get the hassle of my life. Thanks a heap.

Dear Reader — One problem of being small is not being able to keep up physically with one's own age group. In our sports-minded society this can be a real blow, so it is not just a "stupid thing."

All people aren't destined to be the same size, and being small doesn't mean that one's abnormal. A number of small people have been giants in their profession, or even in history. The size one achieves and the rate of growth is related to inherited factors. The blueprint for body development is already there the instant the first lusty wail is made in the delivery room. Environmental influences take over then. That means any illness which might occur, or the nutrition that's available.

If a person doesn't have adequate nutrition, particularly proteins, in the growth phase it's true that growth may be delayed or stunted. I doubt that's the problem in your case, judging from your comments. You are probably not growing. Many people continue to grow in height into their early 20s.

One major factor in determining height is the length of the leg bones. When they finally completely calcify so they can't continue to grow, then maximum height is achieved. You are quite a bit short of that age group yet. You may have a late spurt.

I'm not overly concerned about your size at your age, if the rest of your development is normal. A boy should start showing definite male development by the time he is 16 or 17 years of age. This means normal sexual development, hair distribution, body build, beard growth and other characteristics induced by the normal production of male hormone. If he doesn't, he definitely should see a specialist, or as you say, a pro in the endocrinology field — a gland specialist.

Your family doctor ought to be able to look at you fairly quickly and determine whether you have delayed puberty or are just slow in skeletal growth. He can request your parents to refer you to a specialist if you really need to see one. Incidentally, you can grow quite tall and have delayed or absent sexual development, so the two are not synonymous.

If you are unable to see a family doctor, get your school athletic coach to say something to your parents about it. It may be that you are going to end up short, but I would like to reassure you that the time span for your usual growth phase is far from over.

REITHER

on Beardstown

By Virgil Reither

BEARDSTOWN — A temporary underground cable and additional wiring has been rigged in connection with keeping the railroad bridge swing span operable during the improvement project now progressing. A crew of several men and one woman working for Illinois Bell in the installation of new underwater cable service has been drafted for the job, and bridgetenders said Saturday that barge and boat traffic had been stopped for a time. The work was completed Monday. A "free diver," working with aqua lung equipment, surveyed the bottom of the river before placing of the temporary cable and new wiring. It was explained that old power supply lines have to be taken down to clear the way for work of putting in the new horizontal lift span.

About 18 steel workers, some of whom have been on the high rise Sears Tower job in Chicago, are now stationed in Beardstown to ready the big cranes, one of which has a boom more than 200 feet long, which will be used in putting up the span. The span is being built by Illinois Bridge and will be shipped here in barges—it was reported the span represents some 3 million pounds of steel. The improvement on the bridge is designed to eliminate what the Coast Guard terms as a navigational hazard.

JHS Errors Aid Railers In Victory

By BUFORD GREEN Sports Editor

Lincoln turned Jacksonville mistakes into four touchdowns and checked the Crimson offense as the Railsplitters notched a 26-0 non-conference triumph on the JHS Athletic Field Friday evening.

The visitors received the ball seven times on JHS turnovers and got it another time on a seven-yard punt deep in Crimson territory. Fullback Bill Yocius and quarterback Tom Salensky provided enough offense after those errors and the Railers captured their second straight triumph.

Despite the score, Jacksonville's defense played respectably most of the time. Three of the Lincoln scores came after offensive turnovers gave the Railers the ball deep inside JHS territory, with the Crimson defense twice stopping Lincoln threats following mistakes by the host club.

Six plays later Yocius powered the final yard but Jim Fry stopped Salensky for the conversion try. Salensky hit end Dale Ritchart for a 62-yard scamper five plays later and the visitors led 20-0.

The Crimson's best scoring chance of the game came on the next series. Lewis hit Fry for nine yards and Benton for 18 on two tosses for a first down at the Lincoln 26. A roughing the passer call moved the ball to the 13 with a first down but Mike Zurkamer fell on a JHS fumble on the next play to thwart the drive.

At the half Lincoln had totaled 200 yards to 79 by Jacksonville, with each team running off 27 offensive plays.

Jacksonville was stopped at the Lincoln 37 early in the third on another interception, with a crimson fumble turning the ball over at the JHS 44 late in the chapter.

A fumble gave Lincoln the ball on the JHS 23 and Willis Reeder scooted 19 yards for a score only to have it whistled on the first of two straight 15-yard walkoffs against the visitors. John Raffa's pass theft at the Jacksonville 16 set up the final score of the night, with Yocius carrying four straight times, the last time from the two, with 4:40 remaining in the game.

Jacksonville, now 1-2 for the season, was led by Ben Denny's 39 yards rushing and Lewis' eight of 21 passes for 78 yards. Reeder backed Yocius with 62 yards in only five attempts.

Seward Scores 24 As Tigers Net 56-6 Romp

BEARDSTOWN — Sam Seward scored 24 points in leading Beardstown to a 56-6 victory over Bushnell High School Friday night.

Seward's first score came on Beardstown's opening offensive play as he ran for 52 yards. He scored the points after a run. Seward's second touchdown in the first quarter came when Robin Lewis fired a touchdown pass. Seward scored the extra points on a run again.

Beardstown's first score in the second period came when Milt LeMaster scored on a ten-yard blocked punt return. Lewis ran for the extra points. Ladd Thompson then scored the first of his two touchdowns runs. He scored the first one on a four yard running play.

Don Schaffer scored the extra points on a pass from Lewis. Thompson's second touchdown came on a three yard run. Steve Ladel scored the extra points on a run. Beardstown's fourth score in the quarter came when Dennis Coil ran back a pass interception from the Bushnell 25. Seward scored the points after a run.

Seward scored his final touchdown on thirty yard punt return in the third quarter. Eric Darnell then passed to Jim Lewis for the final points.

Wildcats Fall In 13-0 Shutout By Greenfield

GREENFIELD — Greenfield High School defeated Northwestern High 13-0 in a football game held Friday night.

Greenfield scored twice in the second half to break up the defensive battle. Greenfield's first score came when Jim McClelland passed to Mike Wagner for an 11-yard touchdown. McClelland scored the second touchdown on a one yard run. Kevin Williams kicked for the extra point.

Greenfield had 9 first downs as compared to Northwestern's 6.

Rockets, Havana Battle To 6-6 Tie

Late Goal Line Stand Saves Tie

By BARNEY FLYNN

HAVANA — Routt High School, aided by some key Havana penalties and sterling defensive plays, played the Ducks to a 6-6 deadlock Friday night, their second straight 6-6 tie in two weeks. Last week the Rockets and Carrollton battled to the standoff at the JHS Athletic field.

Havana dominated the statistics in the game, but their own penalties and some defensive stops by Tom Ryan, Bob Kindred, and Chris Yording for the Rockets enabled Routt to tie the game.

The Ducks, now 1-1, ground out 159 yards on the ground and 77 through the air for a total of 236 yards, while all the Rockets could manage was 99 on the ground and 19 yards passing for 119 yards total.

It looked like a completely different game at the outset as Routt kicked-off and held the Ducks to no yards in three downs, before Kindred broke through to block a punt at Havana's 29-yard line, pick it up and return it to the four-yard line. From there it took the Rockets just four plays to take it "across" as quarterback Jim Bernardini snuck it in from the two on fourth down. The pass for the PAT fell incomplete for a 6-0 edge with just three minutes gone in the game.

Havana proved their offensive strength on the next series of plays driving to the Rocket six-yard line before a holding penalty and a sack of quarterback Mark Huber by Tom Ryan ended the threat.

Making over on downs at their own ten, Routt couldn't move the ball and punted to their own 46-yard stripe, where the Ducks made another drive. This time fullback Brad Sarff was hit hard in the back by Kindred at the 30, causing the ball to pop loose with Bernardini recovering for Routt.

Aided by a Havana facemask penalty and the running of Pat Tobin the Rockets moved to the Ducks' 22, where they turned it over on downs with :50 left in the half.

Rick Davidge picked off a Bernardini aerial at his own 30, on Routt's first series in the third frame, setting up Havana's score.

It took the Ducks just seven plays to march 68-yards for the TD. The big play in the drive was a 34-yard pass play to Davidge taking the ball to the 19-yard stripe, where two blasts by Brad Sarff set-up Huber's sneak for the score from the three, with four minutes left in the third frame. Yording leaped into the air to bat away Huber's pass, intended for Davidge on the point after attempt to save the 6-6 deadlock.

Roger Scheland gave the Ducks their next chance, falling on one of Routt's eight fumbles at his own 38-yard stripe, but Kindred picked off Havana's first down play to give the ball back to Routt at the Ducks' 40 late in the third frame.

After Routt failed to move the ball and punted away, Ryan broke through to drop Huber for an eight yard loss to stop another Duck drive at Routt's 35.

Routt gave the ball up again on their next series of plays with Bob Davis recovering at the Rockets' 32, with eight minutes left in the game.

From there with Brad Sarff carrying the ball seven times Havana marched to the two, where the left side of Routt's defensive line stopped Sarff on fourth down to preserve the tie with two minutes left in the game.

On first down after the stand, Bernardini broke loose on a 98-yard TD run, but it was called back for illegal procedure.

Unable to move the ball, Yording boomed a 75-yard punt that went over Huber's head and rolled to Havana's 24. Running out of a shotgun formation the Ducks couldn't move the ball and time ran out.

Sarff led all rushers with 86-yards in 23 carries, 64 of those yards coming in the last half. Huber added 52-yards in 12 carries for Havana.

Tobin got better than half Routt's rushing, picking up 55-yards in 13 tries. Bernardini added 24 yards on 15 carries.

Ackerman, Ewing Guide Rushville Win

MT. STERLING — Rushville moved to a 14-0 lead at halftime and iced in the second half for a 14-0 victory over host Brown County High Friday night.

The Rockets scored in the first quarter when Greg Ewing went off tackle 16 yards with 3:15 to go in the period. Ackerman came on to split the up-rights, making it 7-0 Rushville at the end of frame.

Rushville rushed for 250 yards in the game, compared to 100 net yards for the Hornets.

Ewing scored again in the second period when he snared a pass from Downs good for 27 yards with 2:14 to go in the half. Ackerman again added the PAT, making it 14-0 Rushville.

Jerry Clayton punched in from three yards out in the fourth quarter and Ackerman provided the PAT to ice the Rockets' first win in three starts.

Brown County is now 2-1.

Miami Stuns Texas

city of Miami riddled the pass defense of fumble-prone Texas Friday night to score a stunning 20-15 upset in the football season opener for both schools as Miami fullback Woody Thompson scored three touchdowns.

The Longhorns, projected in preseason as a potential national champion and as much as a 14-point favorite entering the game, moved at will against Miami but suffered six disastrous fumbles.

Two fumbles by sophomore halfback Joe Abousie halted promising first-half drives by the Longhorns. The final two fumbles, by quarterback Marty Akins, came at the Miami 29 and 34-yard lines in the fourth quarter.

Thompson, a 218-pound junior who saw little action last season, scored twice from the one and once from the eight for all of Miami's scores.

His Texas counterpart, Roosevelt Leaks, provided virtually all the Longhorns' offense as he scored on touchdown runs of five and two yards. Billy Schott kicked a 34-yard field goal for the other Texas score.

Abousie's first fumble came on a certain touchdown run as he took a pitchout around right end to the Texas 46 and had a clear path to the end zone when he dropped the ball without being touched at the Miami 30.

His second, on a handoff, was on a third-down play at the Miami 23 and cost the Longhorns 11 yards. It resulted in a missed 52-yard field goal try by Schott as his kick hit the crossbar.

Illinois' Longest Prep Skein Halted

PITTSFIELD—The longest high school football winning streak in the history of Illinois and one of the longest in the entire United States came to an abrupt end when the Winchester Wildcats shocked Pittsfield High School 12-0 Friday night.

Winchester's sparkling defensive effort held Pittsfield to less than 100 net yards from scrimmage and turned two Saukee mistakes into the 12 points that made Illinois prep football history.

Winchester came close to breaking the Pittsfield streak in 1968 when the Saukees scored on the final play of the game to snap a 7-7 deadlock.

The Wildcats started rolling late in the first period when three players fell on a Pittsfield fumble at the Saukee 22. Early in the second stanza Winchester picked up a first and ten on a fourth down play at the Saukee 12. On a fourth and goal at the five senior quarterback Mike Hains further found sophomore end Joe Nash deep in the end zone for six points. Pittsfield blocked the kick try for the conversion.

The final points of the night came early in the fourth quarter. Saukee quarterback Jeff Cox dropped back to pass on his own 12 and Brian McKinney picking off the toss at the 15 and returning it to paydirt behind some fine blocking with 8:50 left in the game. A pass for the extra points failed.

Pittsfield did not cross the Winchester 35 from scrimmage. The Saukees got a chance at the Wildcat 28 when a bad snap from center gave the host club the ball and a first and ten. The Saukees managed to get to the 21 before bogging down to the Wildcat defense.

Pittsfield led in first downs 8-4, but had only 32 net yards rushing on 36 attempts, with the Saukee quarterback sacked for big losses several times. Pittsfield hit on six of 22 passes, with two intercepted, for 64 yards, and lost two of three fumbles, one leading to a Winchester score.

The Wildcats connected on three of 11 passes for 29 yards and rushed 43 times for 62 net yards. The winners had 45 yards in penalties to 55 by Winchester.

A big crowd attending the game gave both clubs a big ovation at the contest's finish.

Among the defensive standouts for Winchester were tackles Frank Ehler, Rodney Little, guard Bob Buhlig, Denny Moore and Alvin Foster, end Robyn Coultas and Pat Peak, Kyle Evans, who also had the game's

Calhoun Grabs Oaken Bucket, VIA 14-8 Win

HARDIN — Pleasant Hill scored first, but Calhoun High returned for two touchdowns to pull to a 14-8 non-conference victory Friday night.

Calhoun secured the Old Oaken Bucket, a trophy that passes between the two rivals, when Mike Lammy grabbed a Bill Simon pass good for 13 yards and the Warriors second touchdown of the night. Lammy punched in for the PAT and the final margin of victory.

Pleasant Hill scored first as Kevin Bateman took a pass from Mark Kinscherf and raced 56 yards in the first period. Mike Rayner carried over on the conversion, making it 8-0 Wolves at the quarter.

Calhoun scored in the second period when Bill Simon capped a 40 yard drive by driving in from the one, but the run failed on the conversion attempt, leaving it 8-6 Calhoun at the half.

The victors rushed for 165 yards, compared to minus rushing yards for the Wolves. Pleasant Hill passed for 121 yards, while Hardin managed 13 yards in the air. The victors racked up 13 first downs to their opponent's four.

Football Spotlight To Dim On September 22

Between 15 and 20 million Americans are expected to pass up football in favor of conservation this Saturday, and take part in the thousands of National Hunting and Fishing Day observances planned across the nation. Not since Earth Day will so many people unite in the cause of conservation.

President Nixon, by official proclamation, has set Saturday as the second annual National Hunting and Fishing Day. The states are unanimous in their support and hundreds of mayors have issued corresponding city proclamations.

Over 4 million people took part in 3,000 NHF Day observances in 1972. That participation is expected to be four to five times as great this year, with programs scheduled for sportsmen's clubs, wildlife refuges, shopping centers, malls, high schools, colleges, fish hatcheries, libraries, and an amazing variety of other locations.

The purpose of NHF Day is to inform the public about the wide range of efforts sportsmen are making in the field of conservation (they provide conservation with over $250 million annually) and to involve the public in the environmental needs of their own community.

Activities will vary according to locale, but most will include conservation displays plus a variety of "skill centers" in outdoor sports such as camping, fishing, archery, and shooting. State conservation agencies will participate in most programs and a number of clubs will include activities on the Johnny Horizon "Clean Up America" program. Affiliates of the National Wildlife Federation, Sierra Club, Audubon Society National Rifle Association, Izaak Walton League and other groups are expected to take part at most locations.

Some 1,320,000 licensed Illinois hunters and fishermen entitled the state to $1,226,000 in federal wild life restoration funds during 1972, paying excise taxes on fishing tackle, sporting arms and ammunition.

Hunting and fishing license sales provided more than $3,682,000 last year.

In proclaiming Illinois Hunting and Fishing Day, Gov. Dan Walker said: "Farseeing sportsmen suggested that they, themselves, buy hunting and fishing licenses to provide funds for state conservation agencies, that their fishing and hunting equipment be taxed for land acquisition, research and habitat management for fish and wildlife. They even asked for season and bag limits to preserve the basic breeding stock of species. Through their publications and organizations, hunters and fishermen have led the nation in the battle for a better environment and wise use of our natural resources."

Peoria sportsmen have planned a free family type outdoor show for the public in observance of Illinois Hunting and Fishing Day, Sept. 22. About 25 Peoria area clubs representing all phases of outdoor recreation will sponsor the free outdoor show from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Keystone Employee's Leisure Oaks Park. The 120 acre layout, that includes two ponds, is situated west of Peoria, more precisely: two miles west of Bellevue off Ill. Route 116, then one mile south on Cameron Lane. The area is located 200 yards south and across the road from the Peoria Motorcycle Club Track. Signs will mark the way. Plan now to attend this action packed free family type outdoor show.

Now's the time to go camping. With the kids back in school, getting a good camping space in a state park should not be as big a problem as it can be in the summer months. Camping should be light to moderate thru Oct. 15; thereafter, only for the adventurous. An ideal place to go now is the Opposum Creek Access Area at Lake Shelbyville. The area is completely shaded and offers a beautiful view of the lake. The boat ramps are excellent, and there is a big paved parking lot for boat trailers, etc. Lake Shelbyville will be back to normal pool level by the first week in October if we don't get any heavy rains between now and then. The fishing at the lake has really picked up this past week.

One conservation bill has been signed into law by Gov. Dan Walker, from legislation passed by the recent General Assembly, and two have been vetoed. Gov. Walker signed HB 783, which allows field dog training year-round. He vetoed HB 358, which would have prohibited boat races in Wolf Lake, and HB 442, which would have required fencing on all conservation properties adjacent to farmlands.

WATCH OUT FOR THE GYPSY MOTH—the gypsy moth has been found in Illinois. Only two male moths were caught in traps set out by Dept. of Conservation Foresters. One was caught in a Forest Preserve in S.W. suburban Chicago and one in Springfield. No females or egg masses have been found so far, but camper, truckers and other travelers are urged to join the fight against spread of the gypsy moth. All can help by checking undersides of vehicles and eliminate any egg clusters that are found. The insects, which have defoliated thousands of trees in eastern states since arrival from Europe and Asia in the early 1900s, do harm in the larvae stage; winged adults are harmless. Gypsy Moth larvae will devour foliage on apple, aspen, birch, linden, oak and willow trees readily, then move to hemlock, pine and spruce. Trees die after repeated defoliation. Most states around Illinois already have the moths.

Did you hear about the angler who made a cast and caught a duck? An angler at McHenry Dam State Park went from creel to game bag in one cast—he threw out with a minnow on the hook in a looper; he watched while a duck took the bait in mid-air. It was a mallard; red-faced he reeled the flopping duck in and released it as fellow anglers gathered and gaped in astonishment.

Every so often a company comes out with a new outdoor product that warrants attention. Ole Charlie Hannick, the flying fisherman, just sent this writer information on the new Flying Fisherman Jet Marine Outboard Motor. This Gassing With Cook In Mo.

By L. B. COOK

BULL SHOALS LAKE — THEODOSIA, Mo. — The one certain way to make you think that perhaps you are "over the hill" is for a number of old friends of yours to retire. But, of course, they are usually much older than you are... Right? Anyway, there have been quite a few such among some of our good friends from various segments of the outdoor field in recent months.

Werner O. Nagel, former Administrative Assistant for the Mo. Dept. of Conservation, and co-author with the late renowned Dr. Rudolf Bennitt of the original Missouri Game Survey (which started Missouri in it's non-political wildlife program many years back) is now retired and living in Jefferson City. Dan Saults, former Assistant Director of the Mo. Dept. of Conservation and more recently Chief of Conservation Education for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C., has retired and now lives in the Ozarks at Hollister, Mo., with his wife, Helen, who was Executive Secretary for George Hartzog, when he was Director for the National Park Service, also in Washington.

Ray Heady, nationally-known conservationist-outdoor writer-bird dog man, retired as Outdoor Editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, has also "retired" from his outdoor writing field back to doing public relations work for the paper, and his outdoor spot is now capably filled by his son-in-law Bill Siebel.

Bill Potter, Outdoor Editor of the Joplin Globe, has semi-retired from this spot... although he probably is working harder at it now than before. Heady's position with the Kansas City Star is being handled, also very capably, by Gary Warner... who has helped Ray for a number of years. George Morris, formerly Supt. of the Mo. Fish Hatchery, at Cheseapeake, Mo., retired some time back, and now says if he had of had any idea that retirement was so much fun... he wouldn't have worked at all ever.

There are many others... and every one of them has done a real big job of promoting the outdoors in a sincere and dedicated way.

They each will tell you this job isn't possible in any 8-hour day... and when you watch that covey of quail, or catch some fish, you can thank all of these people... and the others for jobs well done.

Let's cover the Theodosia fishing of this past week. Constantly looking up; with some nice (and needed) showers to cool off the surface water, and a lake level fast getting back to a more-normal appearance. It is also odd, but nice, how fast the grass is popping up behind the receding lake... and in spots, it looks like it always did. Not a lot of fishing going on as yet... most of this will wait for some cooler weather... but some good catches of bass and catfish are showing up now. Even some crappie, primarily on live bait. Bass on topwaters, plastic worms, crawfish... fished on the points but not too deep, or trolled deep-billed plugs in fairly close to the shoreline.

Now let's look at 1973... and also what we think is ahead of us, Theodosia-wise. This has been an odd year. Rain, rain, and more rain. The lake level got to it's second-highest point in 21 years... but still within the planned flood pool. It didn't run over the dam... not even over the spillways. The dam, so far as we know, didn't show a leak—although that rumor got around, as usual. The fish spawn was tremendous... and with last year's excellent spawn, we can anticipate some wonderful fishing from now on. I believe the fisheries' biologists say the third year after a good spawn is the best... so that will mean in two and three years from this year. We are seeing worlds of small fish of all kinds... and we have a feeling that even this fall may produce some top fishing, although possibly the best is yet to come.

We are hearing reports almost daily of the number of deer being seen by almost everyone... and it looks like our Ozark County is going to again be well up towards the top of leading deer counties in Missouri. We don't know about waterfowl, but quail seems almost as good as last year... but we have a shortage of acorns. We anticipate a rash of spotlighting... and we urge all to help prevent it.

Marquez, Locker Boost Chicago 3-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Gonzalo Marquez first major league home run, errant Montreal base-running and a clutch relief performance by veteran Bob Locker helped the Chicago Cubs hand the Expos their fifth straight defeat 3-1 Friday.

Marquez slammed his solo blast off starter Steve Rogers, 9-4, in the fourth after the Cubs scored an unearned run in the second on second baseman Larry Lintz' two-base throwing error.

Although rapped for 11 hits, Burt Hooton combined with Locker to pitch the Cubs to their fourth consecutive National League baseball victory.

In the fifth, the Expos got four consecutive hits but failed to score when Jim Lytle was nailed trying for second on his leadoff single and John Boccabella was picked off second after his double. Also, Montreal's Tim Lincecum was out trying to stretch his one-out single in the seventh.

Montreal scored its only run in the sixth on Bob Bailey's run-scoring single to make it 2-1.

The victory moved fifth-place Chicago to within 2½ games of the division-leading Pittsburgh Pirates in the tight NL East pennant scramble. The New York Mets, who host Pittsburgh Friday night, are in second place, one-half game out. The St. Louis Cardinals, who meet Philadelphia Friday night, are tied with Montreal for third place, 1½ games behind the Pirates.

Chicago grabbed a 1-0 lead in the second when Ron Santo and Jose Cardenal singled. Santo was out at home on a fielder's choice, but Cardenal scored from second when Lintz overthrew second on Paul Popovich's grounder.

After Marquez' homer had made it 2-0, the Expos scored in the sixth on a double by Fairly, an infield out by Singleton and Bailey's single.

Jorgensen's triple to right field was the 11th hit off Hooton. He had a chance to score when the relay bounced wide past third, but decided to hold since there were none out in the inning. But Locker came on the retire the side, and stifled the Expos' inning for his 17th save of the season.

The Cubs got their final run in the eighth when Ken Rudolph drew a leadoff walk from relief pitcher Chuck Taylor, advanced to second on a sacrifice by Rick Monday and scored on Kessinger's single to center. Billy Williams walked and Santo singled to load the bases, but Taylor got Gene Hise to foul out and retired Marquez on a bounce back to the mound.

Bear Defense, Illini Offense Seek New Start

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The California Bears' defense, which allowed the Alabama Crimson Tide to become a scoring snowball last week, faces what it hopes will be a more docile Illinois offense here Saturday.

Cal lost at Alabama, 66-0, in its season opener while Illinois was beating Indiana 28-14 to give Bob Blackman his first opening game victory in three years as head football coach at the Big Ten school.

Coach Mike White of Cal told his players to try to forget the Alabama experience. He plans no lineup changes for Illinois. "It was a total team defeat, and we won't find a few to blame," White said.

The defense allowed Alabama 667 yards and nine touchdowns, but the offense chipped in by losing the ball three times on fumbles and interceptions.

Tailbacks Chuck Muncie and Howard Strickland combined for 109 rushing yards and quarterback Vince Ferragamo passed for 128 on the frustrating night. Linebacker Ivan Weiss made 15 tackles for the busy Cal defensive unit.

Alabama went all the way without suffering a turnover on offense, and White said, "Normally, you'd expect any team to be fairly human in an opening game."

Illinois was very human on offense against Indiana, losing seven fumbles. Quarterback Jeff Hollenbach was intercepted once by the Hoosiers but completed 12 of 19 attempts for 154 yards.

Hollenbach, a new starter, won't have his top receiver, Garvin Roberson, available until about midseason. The senior came down with hepatitis this summer. Four other starters have been lost because of injuries since.

Halfback George Uremovich, kept out of the Indiana game because of a knee injury, probably will start against Cal. Lennie Perrin, another top-rated back, is a doubtful performer because of a shoulder injury.

But Blackman's team seems to be deep in running talent. Senior Eddie Jenkins took over for the injured Perrin against Indiana and rushed for 60 yards and two touchdowns.

Orioles Down Brewers 7-4

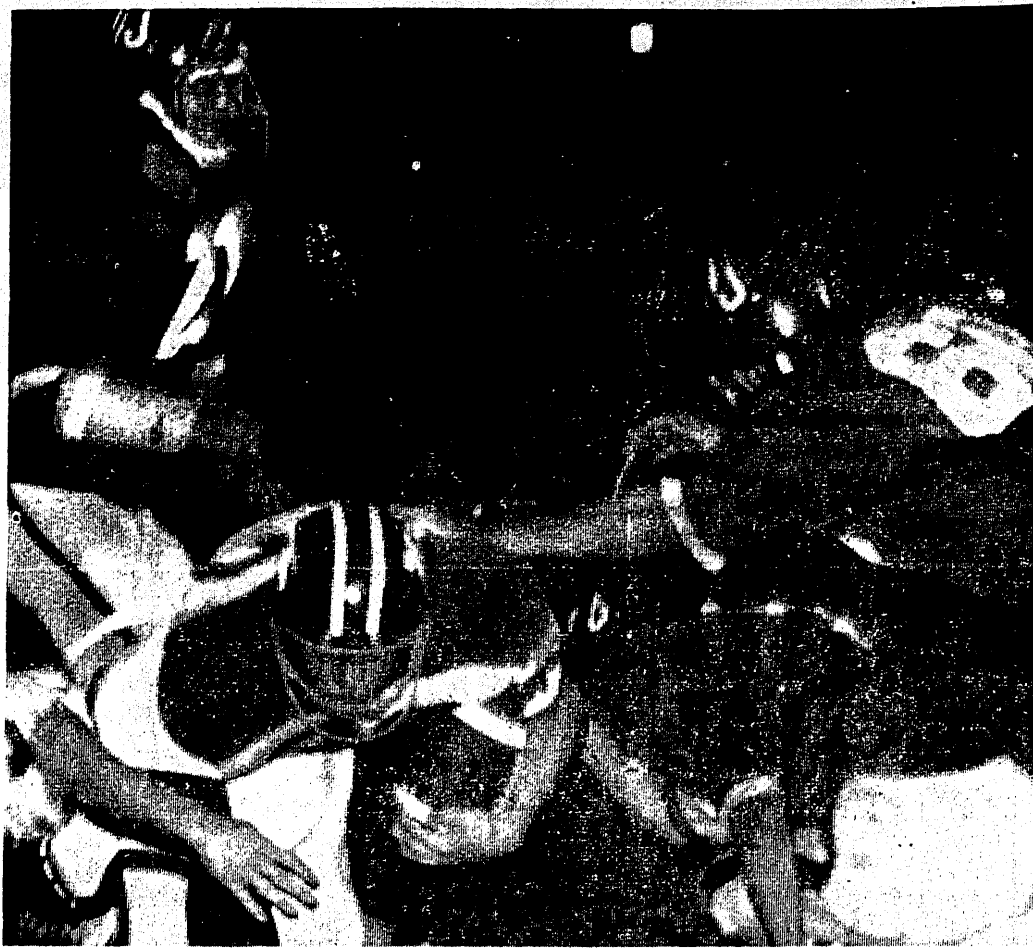

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Andy Etchebarren's two-run double highlighted a three-run uprising in the fourth inning that carried Baltimore to a 7-4 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Friday night, reducing the Orioles' magic number for clinching the American League East Division title to two.

Baltimore, closing in on its fourth division crown in five years, whipped Milwaukee for the seventh straight time. The Birds hold an eight-game lead over second-place Boston with nine games to play.

The Orioles played across an unearned run off Brewer starter Billy Champion in the first when lead-off man Al Bumbry was safe on a two-base error and scored with two outs on a triple by Tommy Davis.

The Orioles erupted in the fourth when Paul Blair led off with a double, and after a sacrifice, scored on a single by Don Baylor. Two outs later Brooks Robinson singled and Bobby Grich walked. Ed Rodriguez replaced Champion and was greeted by Etchebarren's double. Etchebarren also drove in a run in the eighth with a ground-out and Robinson hit a two-run single in the ninth.

The Brewers pushed across one run in the fourth on a single by George Scott, a wild pitch and a base hit by Don Money. They added two more runs in the seventh on run-scoring singles by Charlie Moore and Bob Coluccio, and another on Don Money's homer in the eighth.

FLYING LOW — Bruce Yocius of Lincoln High dives into the endzone to record the Railsplitters second touchdown against Jacksonville Friday night. In the line for the Crimson are Monte Hall, left, and Rob Caldwell (60).

Cardinals, Wise Rock Phils By 12-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rick Wise scattered eight Philadelphia hits in ending a personal six-game losing streak and the St. Louis Cardinals laced out 17 hits en route to a 12-3 victory over the Phillies Friday night.

The victory put the Cardinals into sole possession of third place in the torrid National League East race, one game behind the frontrunning New York Mets, who took over the top spot after whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-2. Pittsburgh dropped to second, a half-game out.

Wise, 14-12, picked up his first victory since Aug. 5. He missed a shutout when Mike Schmidt belted his 18th home run in the fourth after a walk to Del Unser and a single by Willie Montanez.

Borgmann's Hit Powers Twins Over Oakland

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Glenn Borgmann ripped a bases-loaded double and Ray Corbin tossed a six-hitter Friday, giving the Minnesota Twins an 8-3 victory over Oakland.

The loss kept the A's magic number for clinching the title in the American League West Division at three. The Twins pounced on 20 game winner Ken Holtzman in the second inning for five runs, with Borgmann's three-run double the key blow.

Corbin, making only his fifth start of the season after 44 relief appearances, checked Oakland.

Oakland started the four-game series with a chance to wrap up the division title, but the Twins rebounded from a 3-0 loss at the hands of Vida Blue in the opener to sweep a doubleheader on Thursday and keep second place Kansas City's faint hopes alive.

YMCA Ready To Begin Fall Judo Classes

Starting on Tuesday, Oct. 2, the YMCA will begin its Fall series of Judo classes, headed by Steve Herald, a black belt who is on the MacMurray College staff.

The program is divided into two groups. A youth class is held from 7:00 to 8:00, and an adult class from 8:00 to 9:00. A beginners course teaches all the basics necessary for conditioning, and the development of skills to improve speed, agility, coordination, and confidence in the art of defending yourself.

An intermediate course is open to students who complete the beginners program; throwing, pinning, and choking techniques are taught. Timing is developed to the point where the student will be ready to join the Judo Club.

Each program is a ten week course, and is open to all ages. The courses are free to YMCA members, and $15.00 for non-members. Registration must be made in advance.

The Cardinals used a single by Lou Brock, a stolen base and Mike McBride's double to score once in the first and then added another in the fourth when Ted Simmons doubled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Mike Tyson.

McBride doubled and scored on Simmons' single in the fifth and St. Louis scored three more in the sixth. Bernie Carbo singled and Wise was hit with a pitch. Brock blooped a double into left-center for one run and Ted Sizemore singled in two more.

Brewer Sparks Yanks To Tie In Ryder Round

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Veteran Gay Brewer led a resurgent team of Americans back to an 8-8 tie with Great Britain-Ireland Friday in the second day of play in the 1973 Ryder Cup golf matches.

The heavily favored Americans trailed by three points after Thursday's opening play but now are even and in a commanding position going into the final day's action—16 head-to-head singles matches they usually dominate.

The Americans could do no better than a split of the four Friday morning Scotch foursome matches, in which each two-man team plays alternate shots on the same ball.

But in the afternoon four-ball matches, in which scoring is based on the better ball on each hole by the two-man team, the 42-year-old Brewer set the pace for three American victories and a draw.

That gave the U.S. a 5½-2½ edge in points for the day. "I'm a little disappointed naturally," said Bernard Hunt, the non-playing captain of the British-Irish team, who was deprived of the services of one of his aces, 24-year-old Bernard Gallacher of Scotland.

Gallacher, who had teamed with Brian Barnes in winning two matches Thursday, developed some stomach trouble and was unable to play.

The afternoon matches (which produced those three American victories) was the whole Ryder Cup so far," said Jack Burke, the U.S. captain, and the captain of the only American team to lose since World War II in these biennial matches between the nations' premier professional players.

As spectators, the players around and put Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf together as his No. 1 team.

Nicklaus and Weiskopf disposed of Barnes and Peter Butler 1-up in the Scotch foursomes, then romped over Clive Clark and Eddy Pollard in the four-ball 3 and 2.

Brewer and Casper stormed to a 3 and 2 victory over Britain's top pair, Tony Jacklin and Peter Oosterhuis, in the four-ball. J.C. Snead and partner Arnold Palmer beat Barnes and Butler 2-up in the four-ball.

In the other afternoon match, Lee Trevino and Homero Blancas tied Maurice Benbridge and Brian Huggett.

Trevino had paired with Casper in beating Neil Coles and 48-year-old Christy O'Connor 2 and 1 in the morning Scotch foursomes.

Oosterhuis and Jacklin beat Palmer and Dave Hill 2-up, and Huggett and Benbridge romped over Chi Chi Rodriguez and Lou Graham 5 and 4.

Hiller Breaks Mark With 38th Save Of Season

DETROIT (AP) — John Hiller set a major league baseball record with his 38th save of the season Friday night as the Detroit Tigers dumped the Boston Red Sox 5-1.

Hiller, a 30-year-old left-hander, entered the game in relief of Jim Perry in the sixth inning and held the Red Sox scoreless the rest of the way. Hiller broke the record set last season by Cincinnati Reds' relief ace Clay Carroll.

Detroit went on top for good with two runs in the first inning off Rogelio Moret, 11-2. Tony Taylor tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Mickey Stanley.

Al Kaline followed with his 10th home run. Dick Sharon homered in the fifth for the Tigers and they picked up two more in the sixth on an RBI-single by Jim Northrup and a wild pitch.

Tommy Harper singled in the first for Boston, stole second, took third on a sacrifice bunt and scored on a flyball by Reggie Smith.

Plains Captures Cross Country Triangular Meet

GREENVIEW — Pleasant Plains grabbed five places in the top ten finishes to race past Greenview and Ashland in a cross country triangular Friday afternoon.

Pleasant Plains, now 8-1, captured 19 points to win, followed by Greenview 44 and Ashland with 67.

Dave James of the victors came in first over the 2.9 mile course with a time of 15:54, followed by Plains' runners Jack Morris and Jim Tomlin. Greg Johnson and Bert Carter of Greenview took fourth and fifth respectively, followed by Greg Reed and Don Wallner of Plains, Dan Finn of Greenview and Ed Harris and Jim Hannel of Ashland to round out the top ten runners.

'Y' Skin, Scuba Diving Classes Set To Start

The YMCA Skin and Scuba Diving program begins Wednesday, Oct. 3rd, with classes held every Wednesday from 7:00 to 10:30 p.m. The 10 week course is open to those 12 years and older, but only those 17 and older can be granted national certification.

Directed by Jerry Stocker, YMCA Scuba Diving instructor, the exciting underwater program requires only that the individual be a competent swimmer.

Diving tanks are furnished by the YMCA. Students will need to provide their own mask, fins, and snorkel, which will be completely explained by Mr. Stocker at the first meeting.

Members cost for the course is $8.00 for oxygen and equipment rental plus the cost of the official scuba book. Non-members fee is $20.00 plus the book cost.

Mets Top Bucs By 10-2 Margin

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mets shocked stumbling Pittsburgh with four first-inning runs on doubles by Cleon Jones and Jerry Grote, and Tom Seaver made them stand up Friday night with a five-hitter for a 10-2 New York victory. It catapulted the streaking Mets into first place in the National League East, one-half game ahead of the Pirates.

It was the fourth straight victory for the Mets, all against Pittsburgh, and their eighth triumph in the last 10 games.

It culminated a drive toward the top that began Aug. 30, when they were last in the East, 6½ games out of first.

Seaver, 18-10, struck out eight batters to raise his league-leading total to 246.

The Mets knocked out Steve Blass, 3-9 with their first-inning barrage. Wayne Garrett led off with a looping single to left and russy Sauo lined a single to center. John Milner popped up for the second out but Jones followed with a double off the base of the right-field wall, scoring Garrett and Staub.

The Pirates intentionally walked Dave Sneek, but the strategy backfired when Grote pounced on Blass' next pitch and drilled it up the alley in left-center for two more runs.

Pittsburgh retaliated with a pair of runs in the second inning. Willie Stargell walked and was forced by Richie Hebner, who came around on Richie Zisk's booming triple to right-center field. Zisk scored on Milt May's sacrifice fly.

But the Mets got both runs back in the third. Milner unloaded a line drive into the right field stands for his 23rd home run of the baseball season and singles by Jones, Grote and Bud Harrelson made it 6-2. Garrett added his 14th homer, a bases-empty clout to right, in the sixth inning.

New York added three more runs in the eighth, one on a single by Felix Millan and two more on a homer by Rusty Staub.

Seaver checked the Pirates on Zisk's second-inning triple and singles by Al Oliver in the fourth. Dave Cash in the sixth, pinch-hitter Gene Cline in the sixth and Dave Parker in the eighth.

The Bucs had a chance to cut into New York's lead in the sixth inning following Cash's lead-off single. Dave Parker forced Cash at second, then Oliver forced Parker. But Seaver uncorked a wild pitch that sent Oliver to second and, when Grote couldn't find the handle on the ball, Oliver continued to third. But Seaver struck out Willie Stargell to end the threat.

In the seventh, May drew a two-out walk and Cline followed with his single up the middle before Seaver got pinch-hitter Bob Robertson to pop out to Grote in front of the Mets' dugout.

The victory gave the Mets a 13-5 record against the Pirates in their season series. And for Seaver, it was his fifth victory and fifth complete game against them this year. His only loss to them came last Monday night in Pittsburgh when the Pirates knocked him out in the third inning of a 10-3 victory, their last before the skid began.

Girard Returns To Top Porta By 12-6 Margin

PETERSBURG — Girard High School defeated Porta High School in football action Friday night.

Girard scored twice in the second half to come from behind to win 12-6. Girard's first score came in the third quarter on a seven yard run by quarterback Dud Nicholson.

Their second score came in the fourth quarter on a fourth down pass. Tim Herr scored on the 18-yard pass from Bill Procter to make the score 12-6.

Porta's score came in the first period when Dennis Clausen ran the final five yards of a 60-yard drive.

Porta had 15 first downs as compared to five for Girard.

Irish In Spotlight In Season Debut

By The Associated Press
Cheer, cheer for old Notre Dame, which finally makes its 1973 debut Saturday amid speculation that the Irish may be fighting for the national championship when November rolls around.

Eighth in the latest Associated Press rankings, Notre Dame entertains old foe Northwestern in a unique pairing which has seen Ara Parseghian as winning coach in the last 11 meetings—four when he coached at Northwestern and the last seven years at Notre Dame.

All other members of the Top Twenty have seen action except for sixth-ranked Texas, which got under way Friday night against Miami of Florida.

Southern California, still No. 1, is at Georgia Tech, while No. 14 North Carolina State visits second-ranked Nebraska in the only match-up of Top Twenty teams.

Third-ranked Ohio State is idle—so is No. 9 Oklahoma—but

Suspension Of Bench Is Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — National League President Chub Feeney upheld Friday a two-day suspension and a fine which Cincinnati Reds star Johnny Bench drew last weekend and ordered the slugging catcher to sit out his team's important Friday and Saturday night games against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Bench appealed and was granted a hearing before Feeney which was held after the Reds' 7-5 loss to the San Francisco Giants here Thursday. Films and pictures of an incident involving Bench and umpire Andy Olsen in a game last Saturday in Cincinnati were reviewed.

"He's the president of the league and we respect his decision," said Sparky Anderson, Reds manager.

Bill Plummer will catch for the Reds Friday night, said Anderson, who added that Hal King, would catch Saturday's game.

The Reds, first in the Western Division, took a 4½-game lead over the second-place Dodgers into Friday night's game at Los Angeles.

Bench will be eligible Sunday for the final game of the week-end series.

The catcher, who leads the Reds in home runs and runs batted in, missed Thursday's game after being struck in the chest by a foul ball Wednesday night.

fourth-ranked Alabama is at Kentucky for a Southeastern Conference battle and No. 5 Michigan host Stanford, the second consecutive meeting against a Top Ten team for the Cardinals, who lost to Penn State a week ago.

Penn State, rated seventh, visits Navy this week while No. 10 Tennessee is at Army.

In the Second Ten, Louisiana State, ranked 11th, entertains Texas A&M in a night game. No. 12 Auburn hosts UT-Chattanooga, Washington State is at No. 13 Arizona State under the lights, Southern Mississippi vs. No. 14 Florida in a night game at Tampa, No. 17 Oklahoma vs. Arkansas at Little Rock, Iowa at No. 18 UCLA at night and No. 19 Colorado at Wisconsin.

Rounding out the Top Twenty, Bowling Green visits Dayton for a night game and Missouri entertains Virginia. Bowling Green and Missouri are tied for 20th. Houston, rated 16th, met South Carolina Friday night in the AstroDome.

Angel Pitching Contains Texas For 6-1 Victory

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — California's Rich Hand combined with Aurelio Monteagudo to stop Texas on a four-hits Friday night as the Angels downed the Rangers 6-1.

Hand, making his first appearance against the Rangers since they traded him to California May 20th, evened his record for the baseball season at 6-6. He lasted until the eighth when Monteagudo came in with two out and none on. Monteagudo allowed one run to score on a wild pitch but retired Pete Mackanin on a grounder to end the threat.

The Angels scored a run in the second on Lee Stanton's single and Billy Parker's double. They added two more in the third on a ground-out by Frank Robinson and a double by Bob Oliver, and iced the game with three unearned runs in the ninth, two of them on another double by Oliver.

David Clyde, Texas' 18-year-old rookie left-hander, absorbed the loss, dropping his record to 4-7.

Tackle Tax Raises $150 Million For Sport Fishing

CHICAGO — It isn't often that a federal tax works its way down to the states in the form of funds earmarked for the preservation of a natural heritage.

One example, reported by the Fisherman's Information Bureau on the eve of National Hunting and Fishing Day, to be celebrated on Saturday, September 22, is as follows:

In the 23-year application of the Federal Aid to Fish Restoration (Dingell-Johnson) Act, U.S. manufacturers' and importers' sales of sport fishing rods, reels, lures, and creels have financed federal distribution of $156.7 million for sport fishing improvement projects.

As provided by the D-J Act, which became effective in fiscal 1952, the 10 per cent federal tackle tax monies are apportioned according to a formula based on the number of fishing license holders and the area of each state, including coastal and Great Lakes waters.

Since the states are required to meet one-quarter of the cost of D-J projects, the federal tax of $156.7 million has generated $52¼ million in additional state funding, for an over-all total of nearly $209 million.

D-J projects, which must be approved in advance by the Department of the Interior, are limited to fisheries research, purchase and development of lands and waters, restoration of environment, and maintenance of completed projects.

ance of completed projects.

All areas become the property of the states and are administered by them. Structures built and equipment bought with these co-operative funds also become state property.

An often overlooked aspect of the importance of the D-J program is this: participation by the states guarantees the integrity of all state fishing license revenues against any diversion by state legislators to unrelated purposes.

Since the implementation of the program in fiscal 1952, the cumulative total of state license revenues protected from misappropriation is more than $1.3 billion.

53,700 Shotgun Deer Permits Out-Counties Open

More than 53,700 permits for shotgun deer hunting season have been issued by the Conservation Dept. for this year's dates — Nov. 16, 17, 18 and Dec. 7, 8, 9. About 50 undeliverable permits remain in the permit office, so if your application has been in a long time and you haven't received your permit, check with the Permit Office, Dept. of Conservation, 605 State Office Bldg., Springfield, Ill. 62706. A few permits remain for some counties; prospective hunters should get applications in right away.

Counties still open:

North — DeKalb, Henry, Stark, Winnebago.

Central — Cass, Green, Jersey, Menard, Mercer, Morgan, Scott, Warren.

South — Edwards, Gallatin, Massac, Pope south, Pulaski, Wabash.

New State Record Salmon

A new state record and the honor of being the first Illinois fisherman to catch a new species in this state belongs to Ron Gerlib, 5841 South Massasoit, Chicago. Gerlib caught a 3 lb., 23¼ inch Atlantic Salmon in 50 feet of water off Illinois Beach State Park. The fish was identified by biologist Harry Wright.

Michigan and Wisconsin stocked Atlantic salmon last year with fry obtained from the Gaspe Peninsula, eastern Quebec.

Old Railroad Property To Be A Nature Trail

SPRINGFIELD — The Department of Conservation has taken initial steps toward acquisition of 25 miles of abandoned railroad right-of-way in Jo Daviess county for development of a nature trail between Woodbine and Galena, Conservation Director Tony Dean has announced.

The property includes 19½ miles of former Chicago & Northwestern Railroad line, running east-west between Woodbine and Galena Junction, and a 4½-mile segment of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy right-of-way, extending northward from Galena Junction to historic Galena.

Dean said the proposed trail passes through some of the most rugged and scenic topography in northern Illinois. Plans call for development of the trail for hiking and bicycling, with wayside stops for picnicking and resting. Additional activities such as horseback riding, cross-country skiing, snowmobiling and camping also are being considered, as is extension of the trail northward along county roads to Apple River

Canyon State Park.

Development is expected to get underway with the help of Department personnel and volunteers as soon as substantial portions of the property are under state control, Dean said. It is hoped that the facility will be ready for public use by the summer of 1976.

Dean said total cost of the project is estimated at $2 million. About $300,000 has been allocated to begin purchase of the property this year. Land acquisition efforts will continue through the next two years.

The decision to acquire and develop the trail followed extensive review within the Department of Conservation, conversations with local interests and public hearings in Jo Daviess, Stephenson and Ogle Counties.

Dean commented: "An almost phenomenal growth in bicycling, hiking, snowmobiling, horseback riding and cross-country skiing demands that the state provide greater opportunities for this kind of expanded outdoor recreation. With this announcement, we are taking a major step in providing such opportunities to the people of Illinois."

The C&NW land was sold earlier this year to owners of adjacent property, but CB&Q has retained ownership of its roadbed as a motor vehicle access for maintenance of other portions of its trackage. Tracks were removed, but trestles left intact, in both sections after service was discontinued many years ago by the CB&Q and about two years ago by C&NW.

Statewide Hunting Outlook Very Favorable

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., — Illinois hunters should be pleased at prospects for the 1973 seasons. Population counts by Department of Conservation game management personnel show increases in numbers of rabbit, pheasant, quail and squirrel, with the only decrease in doves.

Winter carryover census, as well as breeding and progeny counts, indicate a 20 percent increase in the rabbit population from last year. Major increase was noted in the south and southwest portions of the state.

The rabbit population is still an estimated 30 percent below the high counts of 1957-58, however, and this accounts for the reduction in bag limits from five to four per day for the upcoming season. The possession limit is eight.

Figures gathered from sportsmen for over 15 years show that the average hunter bagged three rabbits per trip in the late 1950's but only bags one now.

Rangewide, the pheasant showed remarkable increases and numbers now approach record highs recorded in 1963-64.

Statewide, the pheasant population is up 10 percent from last year, with the best range being east central Illinois. The north should have much better hunting as well, as counts show good production of ringnecks. The bag limits were increased from two to three cock birds per day for the 1973 season. Possession limit for pheasant is now six.

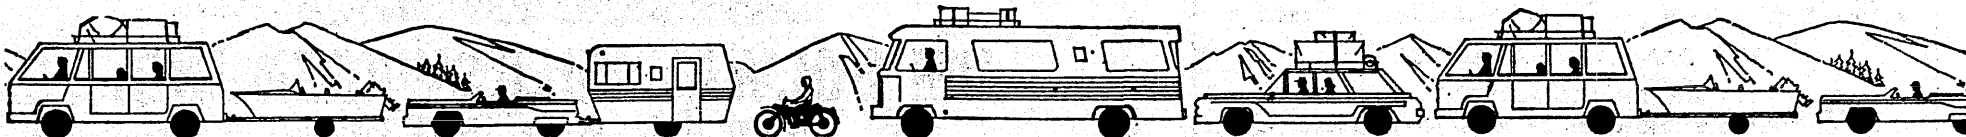

Quail hunters should experience a much better season this year, as counts show an increase of approximately 10 percent over last year's population. The biggest increase of this species came in south and southwest Illinois; however substantial increases were also noted in the northwestern part of the state. The bag limit for quail is unchanged from last year, with a daily limit of eight and a possession limit of 16.

The squirrel population is up 15 percent throughout the state. As the season for squirrels is already open, hunters should be experiencing much better hunting than they had during last year's hunt. The bag limit for squirrel is five per day, and 10 in possession.

Although breeding population counts of doves was up five percent over that of 1972, later statewide counts showed a decrease of nearly 20 percent from last year's population. Hunters will find doves more scarce unless some of these migratory birds move into Illinois this month. Dove season opened Sept. 1, closes Nov. 9.

The hunting season for squirrels runs through Nov. 15. Upland game hunting (pheasant, quail, partridge, and rabbit) opens Nov. 10 and runs through Jan. 15.

Last Sunday, the Jacksonville Bass Club held its inter-club tournament on Lake Shelbyville. Twenty one members took part in the Bass tournament, and over 40 lbs. of bass were weighed in.

A tremendous amount of bass were caught with the average size running from ten to eleven inches.

Bass Club News Notes

By BOB McDONALD, Program and Activities Chairman

Doug Hohimer and Jim Hall, Outdoor Writer, were fishing partners for the day. Jim found the bass early in the tournament on the north end of the lake near the Sullivan access area.

Doug took top honors weighing in 10 lbs. 9 oz. of bass and Jim came in second with 7 lbs. 7 oz. Les Sexton took third place with 6 lbs. 4 oz.

On Saturday, Sept. 22 and Sunday, Sept. 23 the bass club will hold a split tournament on Otter Lake. The tournament hours will be 12 to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 5 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Sunday. A fish fry will follow Saturday's event and most of the members will be staying at the lake Saturday night.

From all reports the Otter

Lake tournament looks promising. Several bass weighing two to three pounds should be caught, as the water is getting much cooler and the bass should be on the move.

new Jet Marine Motor will move a boat through weeds, mud and sunken debris. It looks like this new motor will be ideal for the fisherman and duck hunter. This new motor is available in outboard and inboard models. One of its outstanding features is reduced pollution; above water air cooled exhaust keeps all engine combustion pollutants out of your boating water areas. Another great feature is that the motor gets 25 miles to the gallon, using regular gas with no oil gas mixture. It has no prop, so you don't have to worry about shear pins and engine tilting. The unit mounts like conventional outboard except no part of the drive unit is below the bottom of your boat. The low cost jet drive is powered by the reliable Briggs and Stratton engine. If you desire more information on this new jet drive engine write to Charles Hannick, Horizon Company, P.O. Box P1061, Birmingham, Michigan, 48012.

Sidewalks of Kabul

Street in central Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, is lined with tiny shops, teems with busy traders.

The narrow streets of Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, teem with enterprising merchants willing and eager to sell you anything from a wolf cub to a Coke. They'll also shave you, crank out for you an old-fashioned peepshow movie, serve you food and drink, take your photo, tailor you a suit, or entertain you with a turn of snake swallowing.

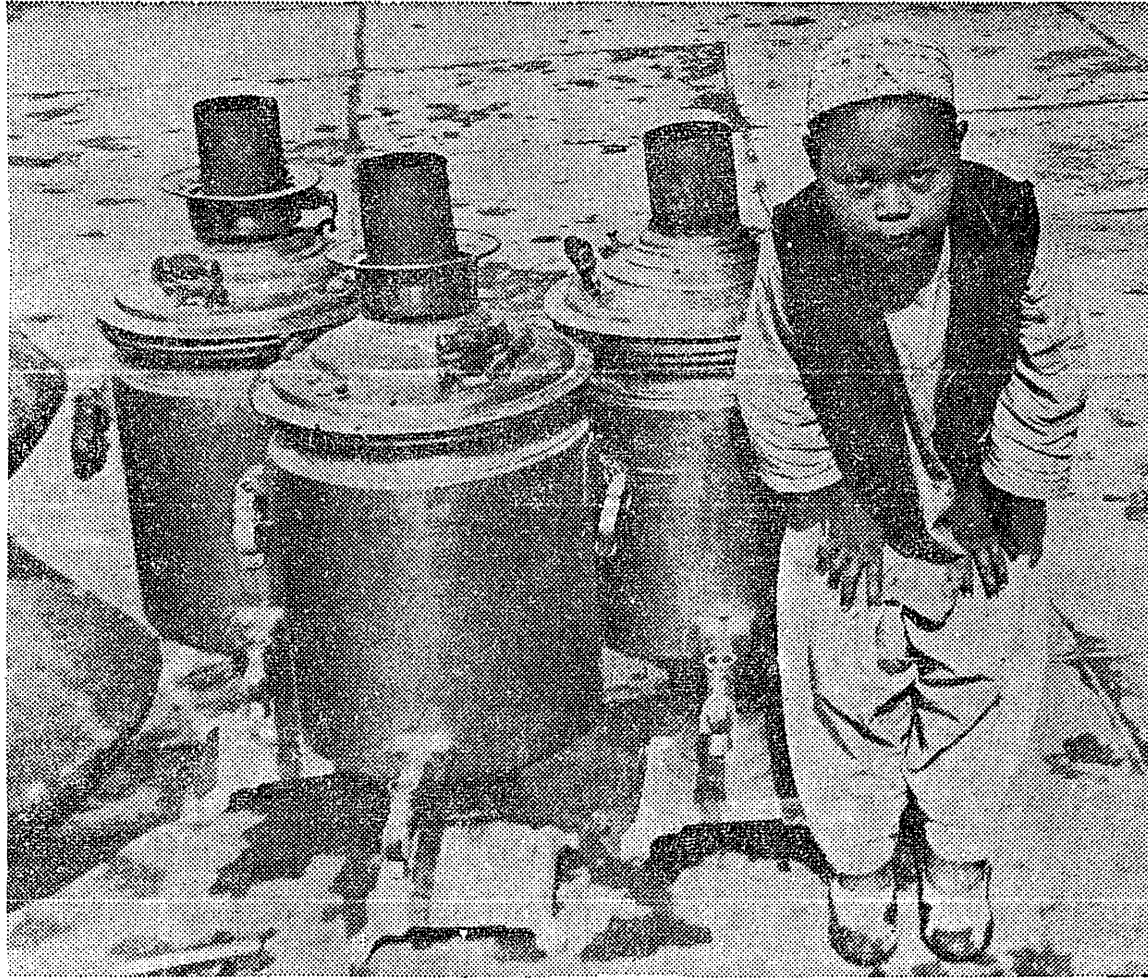

The sidewalks are crowded with stalls and booths, commerce flourishes in every doorway, and there's a brisk barter in countless hole-in-the-wall shops. Even more goods are displayed at ground level by those who don't bother to rent more formal facilities and who set up business on carpets spread out on the sidewalks.

Laden donkeys and camels trudge into this remote Central Asian city bringing goods and traders from the mountainous areas that lie all around. But the offerings of Kabul's street marketplace are not only local. There seems to be something for everyone and something from everywhere. An open-air section where ready-made clothes are sold, dubbed "Nixon's Bazaar," features such items from America as bell-bottom blue jeans. The bazaar has been around for years—for some reason it takes the name of whichever U.S. President is in office.

AP Newsfeatures.

You are offered local snow ice cream...
...a gleaming array of pots and pans...

...tea from samovar almost as big as the seller...

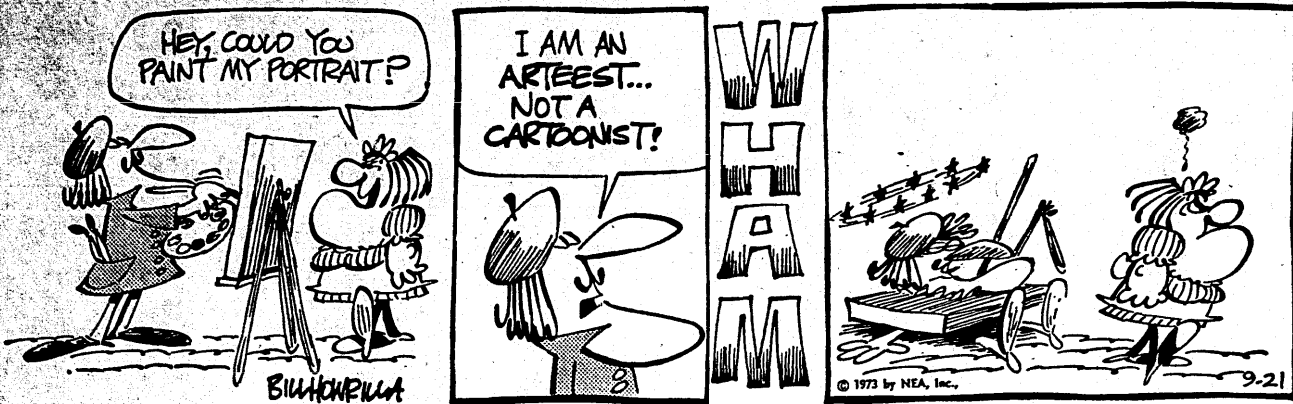

...your choice of firewood or worry beads...

...by now you must be thirsty: have a refresher and enjoy the pinups!

You will love the free feeling you will get with a knit polyester bodyshirt and so the one shown (left) has a free as a bird emblem embroidered near the shoulder. Slinky soft acetate/nylon bodyshirt (right) is dotted all over. You can have your spots in burgundy, navy brown or green. (Cheri-Alan designs)

A BIG FLAP OCCURS when any of this ornithological merchandise is able to take wing. It's the weekly Bird Market in Brussels, Belgium, with goodly variety on display.

MOVIES SUNDAY

(2) (17)—6:30 Movie—"Funny Girl." Barbara Streisand, Omar Sharif. The story follows Fanny Brice, who overcame a series of heartbreaks in her life while becoming one of America's most beloved stars, from her beginnings on the Lower East Side of turn-of-the-century New York through her triumphs with the "Ziegfeld Follies," and her final separation from Nick Arnstein after he was released from prison.

(5) (10) (20)—7:30 Movie—"Lovely But Lethal." Starring Peter Falk as Lt. Columbo. A cosmetic queen leads Columbo thru an investigation that uncovers a fierce battle for industrial espionage. Guests: Vincent Price and Vera Miles.

(11)—8:00 Movie—"You're Telling Me." W. C. Fields, Joan Marsh and Buster Crabbe. The head of a family from the wrong side of the tracks, tries to support his family with crazy inventions.

(4)—10:30 Movie—"The Sunshine Patriot." Cliff Robertson and Dina Merrill. A master spy, behind the iron curtain, in order to retrieve a piece of microfilm of interest to Western powers switches identities with an American businessman.

(5)—10:30 Movie—"Marooned." Gregory Peck.

(20)—10:30 Movie—"Great Sioux Massacre." Starring Joseph Cotten, Darren McGavin, Philip Carey. Western-telling the story behind Custer's last stand.

(11)—11:00 Movie—"The Ox-Bow Incident." Henry Fonda, Anthony Quinn, Dana Andrews. Mob fury, in search of a killer, tracks down and executes three innocent men. Powerful indictment against lynching and mob violence.

(2)—11:30 Movie—"An American Dream." Stuart Whitman, Janet Leigh. Sensation-seeking television reporter, who has been needling police about their connections with underworld, accidentally murders his estranged wife and not only the underworld wanting him dead but the police trying to get him on a murder charge.

TV Special Focuses On Humorous Woman

"The Shape of Things," the first comedy special ever produced by, for and about women, will be broadcast Friday (7-9 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

Carolyn Raskin, whose production credits include "Laugh-In," for which she received two Emmy Awards, will produce the unique satiric revue, which will focus on some of the humorous aspects of the feminine mystique, with the fair sex calling the shots in the creative areas as well as in many of the production and performing categories.

The George Schlatter production, with Emmy Award-winning Schlatter as executive producer, will take a comical look at the changing role of women in our society, as seen through feminine eyes, and will reflect varying degrees of liberation.

In addition to her acclaimed work on "Laugh-In," Miss Raskin has produced such shows as the "American Film Institute's Salute to John Ford," the recent "Up With People" special, "The Wacky World Special" and shows starring such luminaries as Frank Sinatra, Dinah Shore, Diahann Carroll and Arte Johnson.

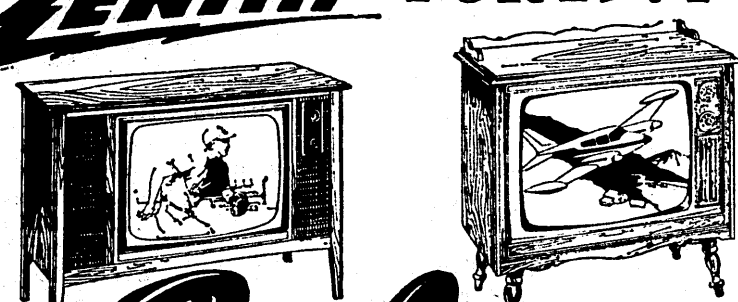

Schlatter, who was an Emmy recipient for his work on "Laugh-In," which he created with Ed Friendly, is also noted for his production of such programs as "Turn On," "Soul," the first all-black special, and "TCB" (Taking Care of Business), starring Diana Ross and The Supremes and The Temptations.

"There will be a few men involved in 'The Shape of Things,'" says Schlatter, "but they will be outnumbered, outvoted and probably outsmarted. The accent will be strictly on women—vintage '73."

GUEST STARS

Guest stars Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, playing themselves, have a domestic squabble, and Steve hires Lucy Carter to perform the secretarial duties Eydie usually handles, on "Here's Lucy" Monday, (8-8:30 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. Coby Ruskin directed from a script by Bob O'Brien.

Lucy, the old peacemaker, just can't keep her nose out of the married singers' affairs and immediately arranges a surprise meeting hoping to bring about a reconciliation.

Mystery Of Stonehenge
Subject Of Documentary

"The Mystery of Stonehenge," an award-winning exploration of the origins of mysterious ruins on England's stark Salisbury Plain, south of London, will be presented on "CBS News Retrospective" Sunday Sept. 23 (5-6 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

Produced by the late Harry Morgan and originally broadcast on the Network on February 1, 1965, "The Mystery of Stonehenge" that year won a George Foster Peabody Award and an Ohio State Award.

Stonehenge, clusters of monolithic stones forming a unique pattern, for centuries has been a source of speculation over who built it, how it was built and, most important, why it was built. Located in Wiltshire, it is one of Great Britain's prime tourist attractions.

In June 1964, Dr. Gerald Hawkins, an astronomer at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., proposed that the original function of Stonehenge was to serve as an astronomical observatory and a crude computer, basing his theory on solar and lunar calculations for approximately the year 1500 B.C.

The astronomical alignments of the concentric stone circles were checked scientifically, along with the 56 peripheral "Aubrey holes"—so named for the antiquary who first investigated them. The results, shown on the broadcast in a unique sequence filmed at dawn as the sun rose over the great stones, indicate that the monument could have been used by Stone Age people to calculate a 19-year eclipse cycle.

CBS News Correspondent John Hart, host of the retrospective series, points out that in the eight years "since 'The Mystery of Stonehenge' was originally broadcast, Hawkins' theory has been challenged, mainly by Robert Newton and Robert Jenkins of John Hopkins University."

"They say the 56 Aubrey holes probably had no astronomical meaning at all to the people who built Stonehenge," Hart adds. "Since all the other stone circles in Britain have different numbers of Aubrey holes, it's just as likely that the holes stood for the number of families in the clan."

None of the theories since Hawkins' has been accepted as definitive, however. So, as Hart says on the broadcast, "for those of you who are romantic, Stonehenge can remain a mystery."

CBS News Correspondents Charles Collingwood and Alexander Kendrick are the reporters on "The Mystery of Stonehenge."

Peter Poor is the producer of "CBS News Retrospective."

POKER PROBLEMS

Dick decides that he doesn't have enough "manly pursuits" in his life, so he jumps at the chance to become a regular player in a weekly poker game, on "The New Dick Van Dyke Show" Monday (8:30-9 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. Norman S. Powell, executive in charge of production for the series, directed from a script by Bernie Kukoff and Jeff Harris.

Dick's decision proves to be a very complicated one when Jenny gets angry, the baby sitter gets ill, and he tries to have the game at his house, amid numerous interruptions. Herb Edelman guest stars as Benson, a very serious poker player.

$5 MILLION CACHE

Nehemiah Persoff guest stars as Leo Paoli, a deported mobster fleeing a Corsican exile and trying to get a cache of $5 million in "Charter for Death" on "Hawaii Five-O" Tuesday (7:30-8:30 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. Michael O'Herlihy directed from a script by Carey Wilber and Sheldon Wile.

McGarrett and the Coast Guard board a derelict schooner, the Marie Celine, which has been abandoned by the fleeing Paoli, and find a curious tableau that might have been set in the Middle Ages: three dead bodies and a number of plague-carrying rodents.

MOVIES

SATURDAY

(2) (17)—7:30 Movie—"Runaway." Ben Johnson, Ben Murphy. The lives of 200 people hang in the balance in a battle between man and machine as railroad officials and courageous passengers struggle to stop a runaway ski train hurtling down a mountain towards certain disaster.

(5) (10) (20)—8:00 Movie—"Dollars." Starring Warren Beatty and Goldie Hawn. A security systems expert plans the daring heist of the bank in which he has just installed a burglar proof alarm system.

(4)—10:30 Movie—"Torn Curtain." Paul Newman and Julie Adams. Noted American physicist pretends to defect to East Germany in order to learn an evasive vital equation dealing with Gamma Five research.

(17)—10:30 Movie—"Rebus." Ann Margaret, Lawrence Harvey.

(31)—10:31 Movie—"Rio Bravo." John Wayne, Dean Martin. Sheriff outsmarts powerful rancher who wants to get his killer brother released from prison.

(5)—10:50 Movie—"Thunder Alley." Fabian

(20)—10:50 Movie—"Tunes of Glory." Starring John Mills, Alec Guinness. A beautiful English film, concerning the bitter struggle between a vicious, careless goldbricking colonel and the intelligent, disciplined, civilized young officer who supersedes him in command.

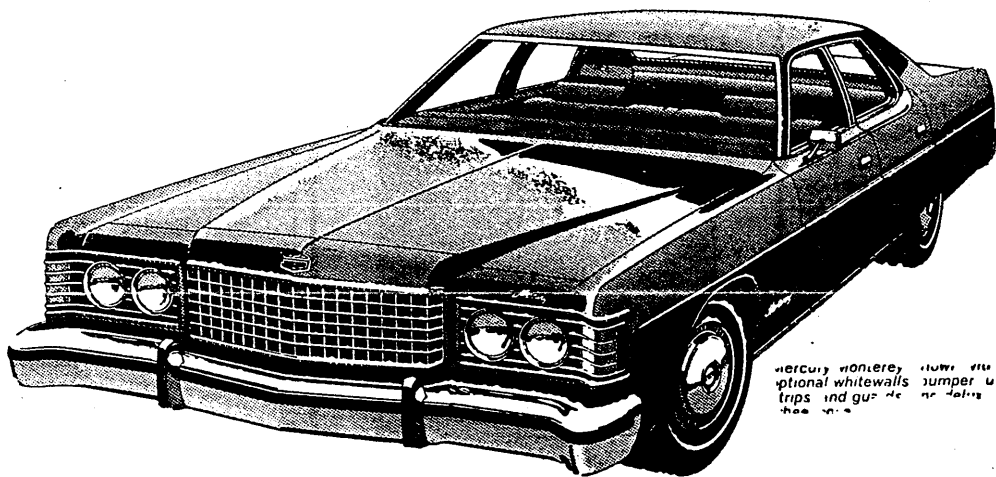

(11)—11:00 Movie—"The Road to Singapore." Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Dorothy Lamour. First of the "Road" series. Two lovers of the sea and haters of matrimony turn up in Saigon, where they meet a gal with marriage on her mind.

(2)—11:30 Movie—"Castle Keep." Peter Falk, Burt Lancaster. A group of U.S. infantrymen and a Belgian castle filled with art objects are both destroyed when the men make a stand at the castle against the Germans.

(20)—12:40 Movie—"The Stranger on the Third Floor." Starring Peter Lorre, John MacGuire and Elisha Cook, Jr.

Shopping Center Beauty Shop Struck By Fire

Jacques' Beauty Salon in the Lincoln Square Shopping Center was struck by fire shortly after closing time Friday night. Firemen responding to the alarm brought the blaze under control about 15 minutes after arriving at the business place.

Fire started in a utility room located at the rear of the store. High explosive cans of hair spray aided the spread of the fire though it was confined to the utility room area.

Fire Chief Harvey Dean estimated damage to the contents at less than $2,000 but said structural damage to the building could run as high as $10,000.

The loss is insured.

The Lincoln Square Barber Shop next door to the beauty salon sustained some smoke damage.

Chief Dean said the cause of the fire was undetermined but speculated that it may have originated in one of the electrical appliances in the utility room.

Martin Newman, one of the owners of the shopping center, said it was the first fire in the retail complex since it opened in 1964.

Protest Police Promotion Setup At Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — A Beardstown police officer has protested the method of promotions by the Cass County Sheriff's police board, and filed a formal complaint.

H. A. (Ted) Maltby, who has been an acting captain under the new police system, took the action following announcement of his demotion to the rank of sergeant.

Announcement was made a week ago that Dave King of Ashland has been named captain, Les Day of Beardstown lieutenant, and Maltby sergeant.

In a letter to Cass County Sheriff Robert Thompson, Maltby said he was "formally contesting the method of promotion and examination" and said that tests were not held in accordance with the law.

Maltby said his own grade in the tests was 97 without oral interview.

Walker's Orders Ruled Invalid

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Daniel Walker's executive order requiring certain businesses to disclose campaign contributions is "legislation by the governor" and unconstitutional, a circuit judge ruled Friday.

Judge Walter P. Dahl said the order exceeds the authority of the governor's office and violates the constitutional separation of powers.

Meanwhile, in Springfield, the Illinois Supreme Court agreed to decide whether another Walker ethics order is constitutional. That order requires state employees in the executive branch to make disclosures of their income, assets and liabilities.

Judge Dahl granted a preliminary injunction against enforcement of an order which would have required firms negotiating contracts with the state and their officers to disclose all campaign contributions made within the last two years.

The ruling came on a suit filed by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce and Crown Industrial Products Co. Their suit claimed the governor's order exceeded his authority.

The issue of extent of the governor's authority in executive orders also was raised in the suit challenging the employee disclosure order. The primary issue, however, is whether the public interest in the disclosure of the financial holdings of state employees is greater than the employees' right to privacy.

A circuit court in Springfield has ruled that the public interest in disclosure does, indeed, outweigh the employees' right to privacy. The case now will be heard by state Supreme Court, bypassing a hearing the state Appellate Court.

The Illinois State Employees Association brought the suit against the disclosure order. Walker has called a special session of the General Assembly to act on ethics proposals.

He announced earlier this week he would ask the legislature next month to enact laws similar to the executive orders he has issued.

Pisgah Land Auctioned For $1,225 An Acre

Two 80-acre tracts of farmland south of Pisgah brought an average of $1,225 per acre at a public auction held in the county courthouse Friday morning.

Ronald and Ruel Becker of Pisgah bought both tracts of land from Arvel K. Knapp and Robert H. Cully, executors of the estate of Albert E. Curry.

There was active bidding on the land from the crowd which filled the first-floor corridor of the courthouse for the 11 a.m. sale, which lasted about 30 minutes.

The Beckers bought the first tract for $1,230 an acre and paid $1,220 per acre for the second parcel.

The $1,225 per acre average is believed to be the highest price ever paid in Morgan County for a tract of land that size.

Leroy Moss Auction Co. was the auctioneer. Flynn and Flynn are attorneys for the estate.

Defendants Held For Grand Jury

Judge Gordon Seator ordered two young men bound over to the grand jury during preliminary hearings on felony charges Friday afternoon in circuit court.

Steven D. Dawson, 19, of Meredosia, was bound over on a charge of possession of a controlled substance.

State policeman Ken Lawson testified under questioning from assistant state's attorney J. David Bone that he found barbiturate capsules in Dawson's car while assisting in a traffic accident investigation in Meredosia Sept. 10.

Dawson, a MacMurray College student represented by William S. Schildman, also faces charges of driving under the influence of drugs and possession of marijuana as a result of that traffic mishap.

Dawson remains free on bond while awaiting grand jury action on the case.

Glenn Miller, 19, of Springfield, was ordered held for the grand jury facing a possible indictment on a burglary charge.

City patrolman Ed Leach, who arrested Miller Sept. 5, gave testimony linking the defendant with the burglary of a house in the 500 block of South Main St.

Miller is accused of stealing two ladies' purses containing about $800 in cash from the house. Two juveniles, also arrested the day of the crime, were also implicated in Leach's testimony.

Miller's bond was continued at $10,000 and he was returned to the county jail. Miller is represented by public defender

James R. Hutton, 30, of 2011 Cedar St., was fined $50 after pleading guilty to having no valid registration on his car.

Judge Seator continued until next Friday at 10 a.m. a complaint charging Hutton with failure to pay 30 city parking tickets.

Jeffery Cannon, 24, of Chapin, pleaded guilty to illegal transportation of liquor and was fined $100. He originally pleaded innocent to the charge and demanded a bench trial which was to take place today.

State's Attorney Ed Parkinson came back to the city from Decatur where he is prosecuting Barron Dean Finner for murder for the trial. He appeared annoyed when Cannon changed his plea.

George Fox of 527 Hooker demanded a trial by jury after pleading innocent to aggravated battery. His trial was set for Oct. 16 at 10 a.m.

Fox, a local tavern owner, is charged with stabbing William Crawford, a plumber, last month.

G. Ronald Kesinger, William L. Johnson, 30, whose address was listed as Seffner, Fla., was fined $500 by Judge Seator Friday afternoon after pleading guilty to driving under the influence of liquor.

A speeding charge against Johnson was dismissed on the state's attorney's motion.

Medical Testimony Shows Agent Died Of Slit Throat

By John B. Martin
DECATUR — Twelve regular Macon County Jurors and one alternate received a stun monition from Presiding Judge John B. Wright late Friday afternoon that they continue to ignore publicity concerning the murder trial of 26-year-old Barron Dean Finner, which ended the first week of testimony.

Judge Wright admonished all jurors to keep a personal record of their activities over the two-day weekend and refrain from talking with anyone concerning the testimony which is not yet complete.

Judge Wright asked any juror that had some insight upon discussing the case with them to report the incident to the court bailiff or himself at once.

The jury heard from 22 prosecution witnesses last week and will return Monday morning to hear the final day or so of prosecution testimony before moving into the defense portion of the case.

Medical Evidence
Dr. Robert H. Kooker, pathologist at Passavant Hospital and coroner's physician, was on the witness stand about an hour and a half explaining to the jury various aspects of the death of IBI undercover agent Pete Earl Lackey whose body was found in his car east of Jacksonville last Nov. 27.

Dr. Kooker's testimony was technical but when asked to describe the cause of death in layman's terms, replied, "He (Lackey) bled to death, due to a cut throat."

The Jacksonville pathologist also described other wounds to Lackey's body which included a large bruise to the left eye and forehead. Dr. Kooker said there was a small amount of blood aspirated into the lungs but attributed the small amount to the position of the body at the time of death.

Defense Attorney Robert Owen had remarked several times in the presence of the jury concerning what he felt was "confusion" surrounding the medical testimony they could expect to hear.

Dr. Kooker described what he said were kidney beans in the stomach of Lackey at the time of autopsy. The doctor said the beans which may have been in chills could have been eaten by the deceased a minimum of 30 minutes prior to his death and perhaps a few hours.

The bruise to the eye and forehead, according to Dr. Kooker, would have required approximately 25 to 30 minutes to gain the color evident on Lackey's face. On cross examination, Dr. Kooker said the bruise could have been made by a leather blackjack, a fist, or some other instrument which he said would be flexible.

The defense went into technical details concerning the bruises and time necessary to gain the color shown in about a dozen pictures submitted as evidence.

Dr. Kooker told the jury that the blood vessels to Lackey's head and brain could have been supplied through the back of the neck from 30 minutes to four hours, depending on atmospheric conditions, after the throat had been slit. He explained that the heart could continue to beat for some time after the throat had been slit, thus supplying the blood for the discoloration to the facial bruises.

What was listed on the autopsy report as "punctate" areas on the arm was explained by Dr. Kooker as small round areas which one might receive when bumping a table. Under cross-examination he confirmed that they were not "needle" marks on Lackey's arms.

In addition, Dr. Kooker said the murder weapon would have been a "very sharp" instrument, probably on one side because of the type of injury to the hand, in his opinion.

The fifth student nurse who apparently viewed a part of the slaying taking place was called to testify. She was Mrs. Nancy Ellen Joy of Decatur, who with four other student nurses was driving by the murder scene about 7:30 a.m. on Nov. 27 east of Jacksonville.

Another apparent eyewitness called Friday afternoon was Nicholas Ketcham of Springfield, a passenger in a state drilling truck that passed by the murder scene about the same time, enroute from Springfield to Pittsfield.

Both witnesses were unable to make a positive identification of the defendant as the blonde or light-haired man they saw in Lackey's auto.

Car Was Missing
Lyndall Cox of rural Jerseyville who lives three houses away from Finner's trailer home told the jury Friday afternoon that he drove to Jerseyville about 7:30 a.m. on Nov. 27 and returned to his home about 8:30 or 9 a.m. the same day. He told the jury that Finner's auto was not parked in front of the trailer at either time.

Cox said it was his job to "look in" on baled straw stored in a barn near Lackey's trailer and that he usually looked that way when he drove by the trailer. The straw was used by the construction firm for which Cox works.

IBI Agent Philip Kocis who accompanied police officers when Finner was originally taken into custody contended that Finner had mentioned making a "threat" concerning Lackey during an interview on the evening of Finner's arrest. Under stiff cross-examination, Kocis admitted that his official report filed some ten days later made reference to the incident as having asked Finner about any "statements" he might have made concerning Lackey. Kocis said his original notes had been destroyed after he read the typed official report.

Sidelights
Pam Wright of Wrights in Greene county, a law school student at Washington University who once was permitted to sit with Finner's former attorney Keith Fitzgerald during a competency hearing held in Jacksonville, visited the Macon county courthouse Friday. Miss Wright, a graduate of Illinois College, explained that she had "cut" classes Friday with permission from the professors.

Miss Wright said she would enjoy hearing the trial during the defense portion since she had observed the case in its earlier stages first-hand. The two classes she missed were Criminal Procedure and Evidence.

Murder Plan
Two prosecution witnesses Friday morning brought out testimony concerning a possible murder plan similar to that used in the slaying of IBI undercover agent Pete Lackey.

Mrs. Vicki Ann Martin Connolly, now of Alton and formerly of Jerseyville, and Connie C. Beauchamp of Jerseyville, both of whom described themselves as friends of Barron Dean Finner, the accused slayer, related details of a conversation in early November concerning "planning a murder."
